Growers Ask Go-Ahead on Cranberries

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cranberry producers asserted today that their products now on the market are safe to eat. They called on Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming to give that reassurance to the American public.

Ambrose E. Stevens, general manager of a cooperative which he said represents 75 per cent of the cranberry crop, said canned cranberry sauce now on store shelves was made from berries harvested in 1958.

Neither the Food and Drug Administration nor producers, Stevens said, have any reason to believe that last year's crop was improperly treated in any manner with the weed killer Aminotriazole.

"The very careful restrictions made by us on fresh berries also indicate that 10 million pounds of fresh cranberries in grocery stores are also entirely pure," Stevens added.

Traces of the weed killer, which has been found to cause cancer in rats, have been detected in some lots of cranberries.

This discovery prompted Flemming to caution the public last week on what he called the possible hazard in eating the favorite Thanksgiving and Christmas season sauce unless it could be identified as coming from a safe area.

Stevens, at a conference called by Flemming, presented a five-point industry program designed to relieve Americans of any worry.

Stevens, representing Ocean Spray Cranberries, Inc., said his growers had been forbidden as long ago as Sept. 18 to use the questioned herbicide on their cranberry properties in any form despite approval by the Department of Agriculture for use after harvest.

Flemming's stated purpose in setting up today's meeting was to hear from the industry a plan to separate the clean berries from those which have been contaminated. So far the only method has been painstaking and slow chemical testing of each batch.

The industry plan which Stevens presented has been undertaken to some extent.

Specifically he proposed:

1. Continuation of the ban on Aminotriazole until facts of its effect are determined. Stevens said this should not imply that use of the chemical is harmful "but only that as yet enough is not known about it, and until more is known, it seems wise to refrain from using it."

2. Segregation of all cranberries about which there is any reason for suspicion, the separation job to be done by marketing agencies which first handle them. Stevens said this plan was put into effect at the beginning of the 1959 harvest this fall.

3. Testing of all 1959 crop berries now possessed by primary handlers of the major distributors. These tests would be carried out by sampling procedures consistent with those used by the Food and Drug Administration.

4. Destruction of all cranberries found by such tests to contain any residue of Aminotriazole, or impounding them until it is decided what to do with them.

5. Continuation of scientific research and cooperation with government agencies "to insure uninterrupted delivery to the public of an adequate supply of pure and wholesome cranberries and cranberry products."

Ohio Cranberries Passing Tests OK

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The first six samples of cranberries tested in the state agriculture department laboratories showed no sign of contamination, Director Robert H. Terhune said today.

Terhune said the samples came from several central Ohio retail outlets.

They were tested for the presence of aminotriazole, a chemical weed killer which has caused cancer in rats.

Dr. Raymond H. Blackmore, chemist in charge of the laboratories, said another six samples will be completed late today.

Ike Mulls Invite To Harry Truman

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower is mulling over a proposal that he ask Harry S. Truman to go along on next month's good-will visit to three continents, a White House spokesman says.

Wayne Hawks, acting White House press secretary, told a news conference questioner Tuesday: "He has it under consideration, yes."

But one obvious obstacle in the way of turning the President and former President into traveling companions is that for seven years there hasn't been much good-will between them.

And a spokesman for Truman said in Kansas City that Truman knew nothing of the idea.

It was Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.) who suggested that Eisenhower make his 20,000-mile tour of 11 nations a bi-partisan affair. He wrote a letter to the chief executive Friday proposing that Eisenhower invite one or more Democrats experienced in international affairs.

In addition to Truman, the senator mentioned Dean Acheson, who was Truman's secretary of state; Adlai E. Stevenson, the loser to Eisenhower in the 1952 and 1956 presidential campaigns; and Rep. Chester Bowles (D-Conn.), a former ambassador in India.

India, with Red China glowering across her northern border, is a high priority point on the tour. Eisenhower will spend more time there than in any other country.

It is in preparation for the trip that the President is vacationing here at Augusta National Golf Club and storing up as much rest and relaxation as he can. Conferences with Washington officials still take some of his time.

For a session today, he called in the five members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff for what Hawks said is one of their periodic meetings with the commander-in-chief.

"They will discuss military plans and program," Hawks said. Hawks said he thinks an answer to Dodd's letter will be coming up very shortly.

But he was definite on one thing: Eisenhower hasn't communicated with Truman about it.

Eisenhower - Truman relations have been frosty ever since the 1952 political wars, in which Truman fought Eisenhower and the GOP with typical vigor and picturesque speech.

Allies Urged To Help with Sea Patrols

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Allied commander for the Atlantic today called for increased contributions by all NATO nations to defend the vital sea link between North America and Europe.

Adm. Jerauld Wright told a conference of NATO parliamentarians, "The defense of the Atlantic is not a one or two or a three-nation task. It is what we call an 'all hands job,' one to which all NATO nations can contribute."

He added, "We appreciate that most nations cannot afford the highly complex and sophisticated naval weapons involved in all aspects of our naval defenses, but there are many tasks in which they all have the technical capability and, we hope, the economic capacity, for increased assistance."

"Such matters are: convoy escort operations by ships and ASW (anti-submarine warfare) and maritime air, mine clearance, communications support."

Wright said nuclear-powered submarines, homing torpedoes and atomic depth charges are available to NATO forces, and described the interlocking effort of Canada and the United States to protect the Atlantic coast from submarine attack.

"The economic policies of our NATO nations on defense expenditures presently permit only token coverage of the area but we have developed the technique, applicable to both sides of the Atlantic, and are able to extend our coverage if and when the forces are made available," he said.

Probers Eye Clark Show

Idol of Teen-Agers Backed by Network

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—House investigators have come here to check information about the television practices of Dick Clark, idol of teen-agers.

The House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight announced the investigators' trip Tuesday. A spokesman said the information generally concerned the subcommittee's investigation of practices used to promote music.

The subcommittee announced recently that it would investigate payoffs to disc jockeys to play and promote records.

Clark's network issued a statement Tuesday night in New York. The American Broadcasting Co. said it had "examined all evidence available to us" on Clark's various shows and had concluded its investigation with "renewed faith and confidence in Dick Clark's integrity."

Clark, ABC went on, "has neither solicited nor accepted any personal considerations—money or otherwise—to have any performer appear—or to play any record—on any of his programs."

Clark declined all comment. Earlier, it was announced t'e

29-year-old TV star had been told by ABC to either give up his outside business interests or his television shows.

Clark rose quickly to fame with his nationally televised disc jockey show, "American Bandstand." He also is master of ceremonies on the Saturday night "Dick Clark Show" from New York and he appears on a Sunday panel show.

Clark dropped the business interests: One-third ownership in a Philadelphia record company, and interests in three music publishing companies.

Under it are many gifts for Jackie, including the toy rifle he always wanted.

Jackie couldn't wait until December 25 because he probably will be blind by then. His parents wanted him to see one more Christmas.

The seven-year-old boy will enter Will's Eye Hospital Thursday to await a tragic fate that only a miracle could preclude. Jackie is a victim of cancer.

When he was 13 months old his left eye was removed because of a malignant retino blastoma tumor inside it.

Jones had told newsmen the knife attack on a white person was an initiation test for a gang he had formed. Jones said he was a member of the Black Hawk gang in Chicago.

Police said Jones also told them, "I hate white people."

At an earlier press conference, Dr. Eisenhower said the President would get a warm welcome if he toured Latin American nations next year.

Another Auto Plant Shut by Steel Lack

DETROIT (AP)—The national steel shortage cuts further into U. S. auto output today with the halting of production of Chrysler's new smaller car, Valiant.

The company said approximately 2,700 workers are to be laid off at the Valiant assembly plant in suburban Hamtramck tonight.

With the approval of his lovely wife, Patricia, 36, he sold his house and all their belongings to finance a four-month trip around the world for his dotting family. It cost them $5,500. Only a tiny nestegg is left.

Tuesday they finished this dream other tens of thousands only talk about.

"We wouldn't trade it for all the money in the world," said Emery and his wife, "and that's just about what we don't have any of."

There were nods of agreement from Jim, 16, John, 13, Linda, 10, and Tommy, 4.

Emery said that with a family his size and a modest income it was impossible to save for a world tour. The only thing they had was the equity in the home he built with his own hands over seven years.

First Real Winter Hits Northeastern Ohio Area

COLD WAVE ENGULFS MIDWEST — From the Rocky Mountains to the Appalachians, a cold wave is setting new records in frozen misery. Lou Belanger, a crewman on the tanker, Taurus, is hammering away at some of the ice that covers the vessel in Chicago. The Windy City was frozen in.

Khrushchev Brags But Pleads Peace

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev says one Soviet factory alone has turned out 250 rockets with hydrogen warheads up to 10,000 miles off the face of the earth.

"You can well imagine that if this lethal weapon is exploded over some country there will be nothing left there at all," Khrushchev told a meeting of Soviet journalists. But the Soviet government is "ready to sink all this in the sea in the interests of ensuring peace on earth," he said. "If other countries will follow our example."

Khrushchev's speech was made Friday, but his text was not released until Tuesday night.

The Soviet leader said he was making public the rocket production figure to back up his 1958 announcement that the Soviets were turning out intercontinental ballistic missiles. He did not indicate whether the plant he referred to was producing all of the Soviets' nuclear-headed rockets.

"Some in the West claim that the Soviet Union has changed its policy and therefore it has become easier to talk with us," Khrushchev said. "This is wrong, of course. Communists we were born, Communists we live and will not die but continue to march onward as Communists."

In Washington, the Defense Department had no immediate comment on Khrushchev's report on Soviet missile production.

It was not clear whether the Premier was referring to intercontinental missiles with a range of several thousand miles, or whether he was speaking of medium-range weapons with a range of about 700 miles.

Negro Boys Joke While Slashing Man

TUPELO, Miss. (AP) — "We laughed and joked between ourselves about how the man kept saying he was a good boy, over and over while we were cutting and hitting him. I did not know how bad I had cut this man. I did not care."

Police Chief Robert Monaghan said this statement was made by Otto Jones, 18, described as the leader of a group of three Negroes who admitted stabbing three white persons in separate incidents Sunday night and Monday night.

The stabbing victims were Alonzo Dodson, 48, Andy Mills, 16, and Don Morris, 20.

Besides Jones, a native of Amory who returned to Mississippi from Chicago about a month ago, the boys arrested were T. L. Carothers, 17, and J. D. Little, 16, both of Tupelo.

Jones' statement dealt only with the stabbing of Dodson. He said he armed himself with a kitchen knife Sunday night and went out with the intention of cutting some white person "because of the way white people had treated me twice in the past."

Monaghan previously had quoted Jones as saying he had never forgotten a whipping a white truck driver gave him in 1957.

Marines Seek Manpower Hike

175,000 Leathernecks Said Not Enough

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marine Corps is hoping again for congressional support to lift the 175,000 manpower ceiling imposed by the administration.

"We need 200,000 men," said Brig. Gen. Lewis C. Hudson, assistant chief of staff, told newsmen in outlining the corps' present ability and future hopes. Its wishful thinking calls for at least 235,000 men to keep its divisions fully manned and equipped.

Congress several times has provided sufficient funds to increase the Marine Corps to 200,000 men, but the administration has impounded the extra money and held the corps to the 175,000-man ceiling it had recommended. Next year's budget is understood to provide once again for 175,000 Marines.

Gen. Hudson and other Marine staff officers at the briefing declined to take issue with budget decisions, but they outlined plans which called for more manpower even as they told of the corps' present strength.

At Camp Lejeune, N.C., the 2nd Division has at all times a battalion force of about 1,800 men on a 15-minute alert for movement anywhere in the Atlantic or European area.

With three aircraft carriers adapted to leatherneck needs, three additional battalions can be launched simultaneously by helicopter over or around enemy defenses and fight with atomic or conventional firepower.

The corps has now three divisions and three air wings, but under the current manpower limitations it has eliminated two battalions from each division, is manning the remainder of the combat units at 90 per cent strength and has reduced the numbers of men and planes in its air wings.

Chardon Gets 8-Inch Snow, Low Mercury

Weatherman Reports Cold Wave Starts On Way Out Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Northeastern Ohio had its first real taste of winter weather today—low, low temperatures and snow that ranged to depths of eight inches.

Heaviest snow was reported in northern Geauga County. Sheriff's deputies at Chardon reported that although there was eight inches of snow on the ground there was no drifting and roads were kept open. Roads generally were snow-covered and slippery there.

The snow stopped before midnight, and salt and cinder crews were at work throughout most of northeastern Ohio during the night.

Heavy snow was reported also at Jefferson in Ashtabula County, with smaller amounts north of there. At Ashtabula, the highway patrol reported five inches.

In Lake County, Sheriff's deputies reported five to seven inches of snow on the ground.

The southeastern suburbs of Cleveland also found snow on the ground this morning, but the weather bureau said only a trace of snow was recorded at Cleveland Hopkins Airport and in the downtown district.

An unofficial low of 7 above was reported at Chardon. At Cleveland, a low of 10 at 6:30 set a record for early cold. Previous record was in 1933 when the temperature dropped to 12 on Nov. 16.

The cold wave which set all-time records in the Greater Cincinnati area was on its way out today.

After reaching a low of 15 at 3 o'clock this morning, the temperature began climbing. A warming trend flowing from the southwest will push it up to 32 during the afternoon, the weather bureau said.

A low of 25 was forecast for tonight, with well above freezing—32 degrees—Thursday. Generally fair weather will accompany the warmer temperatures, according to the meteorologist.

An all-time low of 12 degrees above zero was recorded in the Greater Cincinnati area early Tuesday. It was quite in contrast to Nov. 17, 1958, when an all-time high of 81.5 was set.

Yule Store Hours Are Set

Most Circleville stores will begin extending store hours for the convenience of the Christmas shoppers next week.

The Retail Merchants Committee of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce today announced suggested hours for the holiday season.

Starting next Wednesday, the day before Thanksgiving, stores will be open all day on Wednesdays. They will be open every Friday and Saturday night starting November 27, 28.

Then starting Monday, December 14, stores will be open until 9 p. m. every evening, Monday through Saturday, until December 24 when they will close at 6 p. m.

This plan for making Christmas shopping more convenient is the same that has been in operation here for the last four years.

Allies Urged To Help with Sea Patrols

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Allied commander for the Atlantic today called for increased contributions by all NATO nations to defend the vital sea link between North America and Europe.

Adm. Jerauld Wright told a conference of NATO parliamentarians, "The defense of the Atlantic is not a one or two or a three-nation task. It is what we call an 'all hands job,' one to which all NATO nations can contribute."

He added, "We appreciate that most nations cannot afford the highly complex and sophisticated naval weapons involved in all aspects of our naval defenses, but there are many tasks in which they all have the technical capability and, we hope, the economic capacity, for increased assistance."

"Such matters are: convoy escort operations by ships and ASW (anti-submarine warfare) and maritime air, mine clearance, communications support."

Wright said nuclear-powered submarines, homing torpedoes and atomic depth charges are available to NATO forces, and described the interlocking effort of Canada and the United States to protect the Atlantic coast from submarine attack.

"The economic policies of our NATO nations on defense expenditures presently permit only token coverage of the area but we have developed the technique, applicable to both sides of the Atlantic, and are able to extend our coverage if and when the forces are made available," he said.

Probers Eye Clark Show

Idol of Teen-Agers Backed by Network

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — House investigators have come here to check information about the television practices of Dick Clark, idol of teen-agers.

The House subcommittee on Legislative Oversight announced the investigators' trip Tuesday. A spokesman said the information generally concerned the subcommittee's investigation of practices used to promote music.

The subcommittee announced recently that it would investigate payoffs to disc jockeys to play and promote records.

Clark's network issued a statement Tuesday night in New York.

The American Broadcasting Co. said it had "examined all evidence available to us" on Clark's various shows and had concluded its investigation with "renewed faith and confidence in Dick Clark's integrity."

Clark, ABC went on, "has neither solicited nor accepted any personal considerations—money or otherwise—to have any performer appear—or to play any record—on any of his programs."

Clark declined all comment. Earlier, it was announced "he 29-year-old TV star had been told by ABC to either give up his outside business interests or his television shows.

Clark rose quickly to fame with his nationally televised disc jockey show, "American Bandstand." He also is master of ceremonies on the Saturday night "Dick Clark Show" from New York and he appears on a Sunday panel show.

Clark dropped the business interests: One-third ownership in a Philadelphia record company, and interests in three music publishing companies.

Court Dismisses Fayette Action

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court today dismissed by a vote of 6-0 a mandamus action by Joan C. Rhoad and others to require the Miami Trace Local School District board in Fayette County to open for examination its minutes on a proposed school bond issue.

The court said that because the examination had been permitted, the case now was moot without issue. In earlier actions seeking to block the bond issue, the Supreme Court denied a board request for an order requiring its clerk to complete action for sale of the bonds. The court said the board had adequate remedy by way of "self help."

Khrushchev Brags But Pleads Peace

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev says one Soviet rocket alone has turned out 250 rockets with hydrogen warheads up to 10,000 miles off the face of the earth.

"You can well imagine that if this lethal weapon is exploded over some country there will be nothing left there at all," Khrushchev told a meeting of Soviet journalists. But the Soviet government is "ready to sink all this in the sea in the interests of ensuring peace on earth," he said. "If other countries will follow our example."

Khrushchev's speech was made Friday, but his text was not released until Tuesday night.

The Soviet leader said he was making public the rocket production figure to back up his 1958 announcement that the Soviets were turning out intercontinental ballistic missiles. He did not indicate whether the plant he referred to was producing all of the Soviets' nuclear - headed rockets.

Today's Christmas For Ailing Boy, 7

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Jackie Foster is celebrating Christmas today.

There's a big tree shining with multi-colored lights and tinsel in the Foster household.

Under it are many gifts for Jackie, including the toy rifle he always wanted.

Jackie couldn't wait until December 25 because he probably will be blind by then. His parents wanted him to see one more Christmas.

The seven-year-old boy will enter Will's Eye Hospital Thursday to await a tragic fate that only a miracle could preclude. Jackie is a victim of cancer.

When he was 13 months old his left eye was removed because of a malignant retino blastoma tumor inside it.

Another Auto Plant Shut by Steel Lack

DETROIT (AP)—The national steel shortage cuts further into U. S. auto output today with the halting of production of Chrysler's new smaller car, Valiant.

The company said approximately 2,700 workers are to be laid off at the Valiant assembly plant in suburban Hamtramck tonight.

There were nods of agreement from Jim, 16, John, 13, Linda, 10, and Tommy, 4.

Emery said that with a family his size and a modest income it was impossible to save for a world tour. The only thing they had was the equity in the home he built with his own hands over seven years.

A 30-day voyage by freighter, starting July 14, took them to Honolulu, the Fiji Islands, then Australia. They remained five weeks in Sydney. After that came a 43-day trip by passenger liner around Australia to Ceylon, India, Arabia, the Suez Canal, through the Mediterranean to Southern France, Gibraltar, and London.

The Emerys have moved in temporarily with his in-laws, but plan to start building another house on a lot they own.

At an earlier press conference, Dr. Eisenhower said the President would get a warm welcome if he toured Latin American nations next year.

Marines Seek Manpower Hike

175,000 Leathernecks Said Not Enough

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Marine Corps is hoping again for congressional support to lift the 175,000 manpower ceiling imposed by the administration.

"We need 200,000 men," said Brig. Gen. Lewis C. Hudson, assistant chief of staff, told newsmen in outlining the corps' present ability and future hopes. Its wishful thinking calls for at least 235,000 men to keep its divisions fully manned and equipped.

Congress several times has provided sufficient funds to increase the Marine Corps to 200,000 men, but the administration has impounded the extra money and held the corps to the 175,000-man ceiling it had recommended. Next year's budget is understood to provide once again for 175,000 Marines.

Gen. Hudson and other Marine staff officers at the briefing declined to take issue with budget decisions, but they outlined plans which called for more manpower even as they told of the corps' present strength.

At Camp Lejeune, N.C., the 2nd Division has at all times a battalion force of about 1,800 men on a 15-minute alert for movement anywhere in the Atlantic or European area.

With three aircraft carriers adapted to leatherneck needs, three additional battalions can be launched simultaneously by helicopter over or around enemy defenses and fight with atomic or conventional firepower.

The corps has now three divisions and three air wings, but under the current manpower limitations it has eliminated two battalions from each division, is manning the remainder of the combat units at 90 per cent strength and has reduced the numbers of men and planes in its air wings.

Warning Issued On Aping Russia

CINCINNATI (AP)—Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the President's younger brother, says he doesn't think the United States should imitate the U.S.S.R. in a speedup to produce skilled persons.

Dr. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University, told a group of alumni Tuesday night.

"It would be inconceivable that anyone would suggest seriously that we do as the Russians do by limiting the free choice of the individual or by intruding upon his right to develop his own talents to the utmost limit of his wishes and his capability."

At an earlier press conference, Dr. Eisenhower said the President would get a warm welcome if he toured Latin American nations next year.

Chardon Gets 8-Inch Snow, Low Mercury

Weatherman Reports Cold Wave Starts On Way Out Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Northeastern Ohio had its first real taste of winter weather today—low, low temperatures and snow that ranged to depths of eight inches.

Heaviest snow was reported in northern Geauga County. Sheriff's deputies at Chardon reported that although there was eight inches of snow on the ground there was no drifting and roads were kept open. Roads generally were snow-covered and slippery there.

The snow stopped before midnight, and salt and cinder crews were at work throughout most of northeastern Ohio during the night.

Heavy snow was reported also at Jefferson in Ashtabula County, with smaller amounts north of there. At Ashtabula, the highway patrol reported five inches.

In Lake County, Sheriff's deputies reported five to seven inches of snow on the ground.

The southeastern suburbs of Cleveland also found snow on the ground this morning, but the weather bureau said only a trace of snow was recorded at Cleveland Hopkins Airport and in the downtown district.

An unofficial low of 7 above was reported at Chardon. At Cleveland, a low of 10 at 6:30 set a record for early cold. Previous record was in 1933 when the temperature dropped to 12 on Nov. 16.

The cold wave which set all-time records in the Greater Cincinnati area was on its way out today.

After reaching a low of 15 at 5 o'clock this morning, the temperature began climbing. A warming trend flowing from the southwest will push it up to 32 during the afternoon, the weather bureau said.

A low of 25 was forecast for tonight, with well above freezing—32 degrees—Thursday. Generally fair weather will accompany the warmer temperatures, according to the meteorologist.

An all-time low of 12 degrees above zero was recorded in the Greater Cincinnati area early Tuesday. It was quite in contrast to Nov. 17, 1958, when an all-time high of 81.5 was set.

Stock Mart Prices Surge

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market staged a sharp rally early this afternoon, led by steels and rails.

Shares of these two industries, which often move together, were up 1 to 2 points as they ran ahead of the rest of the market. Gains elsewhere amounted to fractions to around a point, and these were tempered by losers in the same range. Trading was active.

Steels were bolstered by belief the industry will do well if the dispute with the union is ironed out.

Arms Limit Issue Shelved During Talks

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer have decided to avoid the controversial topic of limiting arms in central Europe in their friendship-mending talks.

British and West German spokesmen said today both sides had agreed to stay away from the subject after a day of talks in which good progress was reported toward settling some of their differences.

It was Macmillan's visit to Moscow early this year, when he discussed with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev the idea of limiting arms in a zone of central Europe, that excited Adenauer's suspicion of British policy.

Adenauer feared such a policy would start a process of Allied withdrawal that would weaken the Western defensive shield, leaving West Germany exposed to Communist pressure.

Adenauer arrived in London Tuesday for a three-day visit in an effort to clear away months of bickering.

He and Macmillan canceled a second conference this morning to allow their foreign ministers, Selwyn Lloyd and Heinrich von Brentano, to go into more detail on points touched on in the opening meeting.

Errant Driver Is Sentenced On 3 Charges

Three charges here against a Columbus motorist resulted in fines of $350 plus costs, 15 days in jail and a driver's rights suspension for one year.

The accusations were against Joseph C. Stepp, 24. He was arrested by Police Sgt. Leroy Hawks and appeared before Municipal Judge Sterling M. Lamb today.

Stepp was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to 10 days in jail and had his driving privileges suspended for one year for driving under the influence of intoxicants. Records disclosed that the accused was convicted earlier this year in Columbus for intoxicated driving.

The errant motorist also was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail for driving while his license was under suspension. The previous suspension stemmed from the earlier arrest in Columbus.

JUDGE Lamb's court also took a dim view on Stepp's attempt to use a counterfeit license plate on his car. This charge brought a fine of $50 and costs.

Sgt. Hawks said Stepp displayed a cardboard with numbers painted on it. The plate was made to look like an Ohio Temporary tag.

Sgt. Hawks said Stepp was a walkaway from the Columbus City Prison. The officer said the accused will be held for Columbus lawmen after he has served his sentences here.

Stepp pleaded guilty to the first two charges, but entered a plea of innocent of the counterfeit license accusation. His two jail sentences will run consecutively.

The next five days:

Temperatures will average 3 to 5 degrees below normal. Normal high 46 north, 49 south; normal low 31-33. Warmer tonight, Thursday and Friday, minor day-to-day changes in temperature Saturday through Monday. Little or no precipitation expected through Monday, 3.

It was colder in many parts of the South—below freezing—than in the snow-covered sections of the Northland, which made a quick recovery after two days of sub-zero blasts.

As gusty northerly winds powered the arctic air into the eastern half of the country, temperatures moderated in the Rockies and north central region. The warming trend followed record low readings for the date in the Midwest Tuesday.

The freezing weather spread southward across the Carolinas, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and south Texas. Temperatures were in the 20s. Some Southern cities matched the 25-degree mark at Anchorage, Alaska. Some of the cold air seeped into northern Florida.

To the north, it was colder, with temperatures in the 20s and teens across the Virginias, Pennsylvania, New York and New England. The icy air also extended over Kentucky and Tennessee. Snow fell in some sections of the North-east.

It was a comparatively mild 37 above at Rapid City, S.D., and at Denver the mercury was in the low 40s. It was a chilly 25 at Danville, Va., Meridian, Miss., and Tuscaloosa, Ala.; 26 at Greenville, S.C.; 27 at Baton Rouge, La., and San Antonio, Tex.; 28 at Atlanta; 29 at Charlotte, N.C., and 30 at Lake Charles, La.

Hunters Here See Rabbits, Pheasants

Hunting season reached its third day that a nine-foot fiber glass reporting good takes of rabbits and pheasants.

Some hunters coming out of the fields yesterday reported seeing as many as 14 rabbits in less than two hours. Many bagged their limit.

Several nimrods reported that an above average number of pheasants had been spotted, but indicated that the bird population was not as good as rabbits.

Scattered reports on quail hunting disclosed that few bobwhites have been taken so far. Only three designated areas are legal spots for quail hunting in Pickaway County. This probably accounts for the small number of birds bagged.

OTHER hunters reported seeing several flocks of ducks in this area yesterday. Game officials said the current cold weather here should bring the long bills down.

Hunters are reminded that hunting hours for quail, rabbits and pheasants are from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Ducks may be taken from sunrise to sunset.

No more hunting accidents were reported here as of noon today. One man was slightly injured in an accident north of here the first day and another received a severe jolt when both barrels of his shotgun discharged at the same time.

Although three more hunters were cited into Circleville Municipal Court yesterday and today, Game Protector Clarence Francis said violations have been held to a minimum so far.

Charles McCann, Piketon, and Corbett Estep, Route 2, Piketon, each fined $10 and costs for hunting without written permission. They were arrested by Game Protector Francis for hunting on the Fred Pearce property.

George E. Curry, Columbus, was fined $35 and costs for shooting at game from a car on the highway. He was cited by Fred Schob, state game official.

Possibility of Establishing Radio Communication Planned

Howard Kenny, state meteorologist with the Columbus Weather Bureau, Port Columbus, last night addressed interested Ross and Pickaway Counties' residents on the possibility of establishing a communications system.

Kenny related facts that brought about the need of acquiring a communication system with his department to prevent a re-occurrence of January's poor communications' contact with southern Scioto River communities.

The state meteorologist said there were numerous times that his department was unable to supply Scioto River communities with up-to-date information about the flood state of the Scioto which practically isolated communities for several days during its peak.

Kenny said the devastating flood was due to a quick runoff of water created by heavy rains and melting snow. He said conditions were ideal for the flood and probably wouldn't re-occur in another 100 years.

"THE FROST was 18 inches deep in rural areas along the Scioto, thereby preventing the ground from absorb water," Kenny said.

He said shortwave radio communications were necessary to keep communities informed of periling circumstances, the like of which occurred last January.

He said the flood was in check until an ice flow broke in Big Walnut stream letting waters further increased the Scioto's peak.

Kenny said his department attempted to notify communities south of Big Walnut of the ice flow break but couldn't get through by telephone and other common sources.

According to Kenny, if it hadn't been for the Delaware Reservoir retaining five inches of water and the flood gates and quarries in Franklin County holding back waters, the January flood would have been a lot worse.

The Scioto crested at 26.97 feet here on January 22 to bring the worse flood conditions to Pickaway County since 1913 when half the community was inundated by flood waters.

KENNY said there are several Civil Defense departments along the southern Scioto that are attempting to establish a new communications ban. He urged persons at the meeting to investigate this possibility and join with other counties.

He also informed the group that because of the flood, the interest in the Scioto Conservancy District has been revived and that U. S. Army engineers are surveying the area for possible dam sites.

"The U. S. Geonetic Survey has been revived and officials have been checking all available data on Scioto River flood conditions," he said.

Once all facts and data have been compiled and examined, Kenny said he will meet with interested parties again to plan the next step in establishing better communications between counties and the weather bureau.

Attending the meeting were Russell Drummond and Victor Jones, engineers at the Mead Corporation, Chillicothe; Charles Crow, superintendent of the Mead coating division and Ross County's Civil Defense head;

Charles H. Radcliff, County Sheriff; Henry T. McCrady, County engineer; Harry A. Styers, County weatherman, and Lawrence Thornton, employe of the Mead coating division.

PRESENTLY the southern Scioto River counties conduct radio communication through Sheriff's Departments. Pickaway County's villages also have established radio communication with the Sheriff's Department.

The Mead Corporation is especially interested in radio communication because it suffered extensive damage during January's flood, which may have been prevented by earlier notification from the Columbus Weather Bureau, Mead officials said.

Kellstadts Visit Mrs. W. L. Mack

Former residents here, Charles and Harold Kellstadt, Sunday visited with their aunt, Mrs. W. L. Mack, 137 1/2 W. Franklin St.

Charles Kellstadt is president of the Sears, Roebuck and Co., with his office and home in Chicago, Ill. He was honored Saturday night by the Press Club of Ohio for his achievements and for bringing distinction to Ohio.

Harold Kellstadt is associated with the David Davies Packing Co., Inc., Columbus. Both Kellstadts were residents here in their early youth.

HER SLAYER HUNTED—Palm Springs, Calif., police issued an all-points bulletin for the arrest of Tord O. Zeppenfeld for questioning after the body of Mrs. Lillian H. Lenorak (above), 42, a Hollywood divorcee, was found on a lonely road on the outskirts of Palm Springs. She had been bludgeoned to death. A pair of gun grips found near the body reportedly belonged to Zeppenfeld, a young man with a cowboy fixation.

Armless Girl Seriously Hurt In Accident

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Joann McCarty Talbert, 19, who won her battle for a normal life without arms, faced another fight for her life today in Delaware's Jane Case Hospital.

With characteristic spirit, her physician said, she is fighting valiantly against serious injuries suffered Monday night in a traffic accident.

Her husband, Resden Talbert, 26, was in another room painfully but less seriously injured. Their infant son, Resden Jr., born Aug. 21, was safe with relatives in Columbus. The Talberts also live in Columbus.

The sheriff's office said the Talberts' small, foreign-make car skidded on a curve on a rain-slippery road near Bellpoint. Mrs. Talbert was thrown through the windshield and into a small creek when the car upset.

She suffered a fractured jaw, deep head cuts and severe shock. Her condition was described as very serious.

As a child of 11, Joann McCarty became known to Columbus as she trained her feet and toes to do the tasks others do with their hands.

Last August, reporters interviewed her again in Mt. Carmel Hospital as she planned how to care for her newborn son—and the three more children she hoped to have later.

"She's a wonderful person," the Delaware Hospital staff said Tuesday. "We'll do everything we can."

Chicago Boy Freed In Slaying Probe

CHICAGO (AP)—Charles Baisten, 17, who had been charged with murdering another youth, Samuel A. Schwartz, a 16-year-old was freed from jail Monday after a month's confinement. A prosecutor said someone else had confessed the crime.

Baisten, a Negro, was accused of the robbery-attempt knifing of white youth, on a South Side el platform.

Police had obtained a statement from Baisten admitting the stabbing, a statement he later repudied.

Prosecutors said an indictment will be sought against James Duncan, 18, a Negro, who they said has admitted the stabbing.

A survey among United States executives reveals that nearly 30 per cent of them would like to retire between the ages of 58 and 62. Only 2 per cent want to retire under 48, while nearly 6 per cent set the age at 73 or over.

Less than 5 per cent of Wyoming or Arizona is arable.

$2,400,000 Will Is Upheld by Jury

CLEVELAND (AP)—A common pleas jury which was out for three days following a four-week hearing has upheld the $2,400,000 will of Mrs. Grace L. Roseman, whose late husband founded the Standard Drug Co. Three relatives of Mrs. Roseman's husband, Charles, had sought to invalidate the will on grounds that Mrs. Roseman was influenced unduly by Robert W. Campbell, an attorney who now is Standard Drug president and who was a college mate of Mrs. Roseman's son, Charles. The son was killed in an automobile accident in 1952. The three plaintiffs were Paul Roseman and Byron Austin, both of Massillon, and Mrs. Emma D. Sullivan of Cleveland.

Mistake of Living Too Soon

Alchemists of old who believed it possible to turn lead into gold had an instinctive perception of the truth about matter. Their mistake was in living too soon.

Today civilization is poised on the brink of an age when miracles become everyday affairs through man's knowledge of election chemistry. This is no dream of tomorrow but rather the reality of today.

Barron's magazine tells of a two-year-old business located in California which is doing a booming business. Sales are almost double those of the first year, while profits have increased five-fold. The company's business is radiation chemistry, creating new materials.

Electron beam generators are used to bombard various substances with atomic particles to produce new materials. At the moment the technique is being applied to obtain high temperature, flame-resistant insulation for wire and cable. Company officials say the possibilities are so great they hardly know where to begin.

According to Barron's, startling accomplishments are possible with radiation chemistry. Sawdust can be converted into a "digestible" though not very tasty fodder for livestock. Sugar becomes an acid. Shoe leather can be made waterproof and ordinary household ammonia turned into a rocket fuel.

Civilization's race between education and chaos continues apace. If today's generations of spectators and participants feel overly nervous as to the outcome, this is understandable. Looking over the world's trouble spots and reflecting on the conflicting ideologies of freedom and statism gives an impression that education may be faltering at a crucial time.

As always, though, hope for the future is defined by the past. Yesterday's threatened disasters have provided an age of everyday miracles instead.

Farmers Are In Squeeze

Despite the billions of dollars the U. S. government has poured into the agricultural program, net farm income dropped sharply in the third quarter of this year.

The $95 billion annual rate netted by farmers in the quarter was more than 17 per cent below the total of the preceding three months and 28 per cent under the net income of the third quarter of 1958. The figures are from President Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisers.

This decline was bad enough but, making matters worse, the prices farmers had to pay for nonagricultural goods and services went up at the same time.

Underlying the farmers' squeeze between lower prices and higher costs were the lush crops and high livestock production made possible by advances in agricultural science and technology.

On top of this were the huge growing surpluses and the old law of supply and demand which was still at work despite the artificial strains imposed upon it by the federal price support program. Some improvement in the farm picture is expected by the end of the year.

Yet should the council achieve its total projected farm income of about $11 billion for 1959, it would still be $2 billion, or 15 per cent, under 1958.

Milestones for Mortal Man

NEW YORK (AP)—There are certain milestones in living which, once reached, change your life forever.

Such a milestone is your first real case of puppy love, the first time you break a bone and realize that your body is not immortal but mortal, marriage, and your first child.

After that the milestones become a bit glum. I am thinking of your 40th birthday, the day the dentist says, "I'm sorry, but I'll have to put in a partial plate," and the day you finally decide to wear glasses.

I am at this last landmark now. For months I have been getting more and more like that near-sighted comic character who lives in a foggy world where everything looks like something else.

The harder I squint the less I see.

"Your eyes are your work," my wife has been saying for a long time now, "and you're straining them so you'll wind up blind as a bat."

"It's just vanity with you anyway. Why don't you give up and go get yourself tested for some glasses? Glasses are attractive on middle-aged men. It makes them look like executives."

"I don't want to look like an executive," I tell her. "I just want to go on looking like Clark Gable—or maybe Marshal Dillon."

I was in a railway terminal the other day and couldn't make out the number on the phone directory. I hailed an elderly stranger and asked his help.

"Certainly," he said, pulling a pair of glasses from his pocket. He gave me the number.

"Sonny, why don't you quit fighting time, and get yourself some glasses. You don't know what you're missing," he told me.

"Such as what?" I asked.

"Well, are you a girl watcher?" he demanded. I looked quickly in both directions and lowered my voice as I answered, "Isn't everybody?"

"Can you see that pretty girl at the other end of the terminal?" he inquired. I looked where he pointed and had to admit she was pretty much of a blur to me.

Then the old fellow had me don his spectacles. The distant girl leaped into clear vision. She was startlingly beautiful.

I made up my mind that instant. I'm going to make an appointment with an eye doctor right away.

A middle-aged man who fights glasses doesn't know what he's missing.

We Need Passport Law

The effort of the State Department to obtain a Congressional decision as to what an American passport is and who is entitled to one ought not to be withheld. If Communists or anarchists or felons or anyone else is not entitled to an American passport, the decision must be in Congress and can be nowhere else. Congress should pass a law.

To how long desperate the case can be, take this testimony before the House Committee on Un-American Activities. The witness is Martin Popper, a New York lawyer. He was shown a copy of his passport application which contains three questions, as follows:

"Are you now a member of the Communist Party? (Write 'yes' or 'no')"

"Have you ever been a member of the Communist Party? (Write 'yes' or 'no')"

"If ever a member, state period of membership from— to—"

Frank S. Tavenner, counsel for the committee, engaged in the following colloquy with Popper: "...Do you observe any answer was given to any one of those three questions?"

"Mr. Popper. No; there was no answer to any of the questions."

"Mr. Tavenner. Why did you not answer those questions?"

"Mr. Popper. Because it had been decided by the Supreme Court the State Department had no authority or power to ask the questions."

"Mr. Tavenner. The purpose of this year, Mr. Popper, is to determine, among other things, whether or not the Secretary of State should be given authority, by legislation, to require passport applicants to furnish information of the nature called for in these three questions."

"I would, therefore, like to ask you if at the time you executed your application for a passport you were a member of the Communist Party?"

"Mr. Popper. I respectfully decline to answer that question, Mr. Tavenner, on the following grounds: I understand the Supreme Court's decision in the Watkins Case to mean that this Committee's authorizing resolution is so vague that to compel testimony under it would violate the due process clause of the Federal Constitution and that the jurisdiction which the Committee has assumed is so limitless that its inquiries into the area of speech, press, or political belief and association abridges the freedoms guaranteed by the First Amendment."

"Furthermore, the subject matter of this investigation is equally limitless and, therefore, violates these same constitutional guarantees."

By George Sokolsky

tutional guarantees.

"I add that to the extent it is ascertainable, to the extent that the subject matter of his inquiry is ascertainable, this Committee is not authorized by Congress to conduct it."

"Therefore, I respectfully contend that the Committee has no authority to conduct this investigation."

"I also decline to answer the question because I do not believe it is pertinent."

"Mr. Tavenner. You object, then, on the ground of pertinency, as well as the ground of jurisdiction?"

"Mr. Popper. Yes, on all of the grounds which I have just stated."

This is a very long quotation from the record but it states the entire case for the need for legislation. The Supreme Court, in the Watkins Decision, deprived the State Department of the right to decide who is and who is not entitled to a passport, but it gave that right to no other department of government.

This means that passports are exit permits and re-entry permits for American citizens but that the United States may not determine whether it will or will not grant such an exit permit. The Supreme Court decision in the Watkins Case was not good law or practical administration. Congress must therefore provide good law and the Passport Office practical administration.

Bills to correct the errors of the Watkins Decision have been introduced in Congress. We are living in a troubled world. Passports issued promiscuously may fall into wrong hands as did many passports issued to Americans who fought in the Spanish Civil War. Popper was issued a passport to go to Germany to attend the Nuremberg trials in 1946. Then he went to Russia. These are his words:

"I received an invitation from one of the distinguished lawyers who was a member of the Soviet legal delegation to go to the Soviet Union and to talk to the lawyers there about my observations of the Nuremberg trial."

I select this testimony because it is typical of the problem.

Cancer Strides Under Way

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Maybe we never will be able to cure cancer, but chances are that at least we will be able to hold the disease completely in check. And that's almost as good as a cure.

Take diabetes as an example. We still can't cure the disease. Yet in the vast majority of cases we can control it simply by administering small regular doses of insulin and by watching our diets.

It wasn't too many years ago that a diagnosis of diabetes was a pronouncement of death.

Admittedly, daily doses of insulin are a bit bothersome. But many patients no longer need injections; they can take their insulin orally. It's as easy as swallowing an aspirin.

Perhaps we still are a long way from a solution to the cancer problem, but when we do come up with a solution, it might be a drug or some sort of medication that will hold the disease in check rather than eliminating it entirely.

This possibility is not something that I have just pulled from my imagination. Medical science already has done quite a bit along this line with one form of cancer—leukemia.

While we have not been able to bring about a cure, we have been able to prolong life considerably. For short periods, we have brought about remissions in the disease in many, many instances. And during these remissions, generally victims of leukemia, appear perfectly healthy.

This is a big step forward in our fight against cancer, possibly the biggest. There have been many other sizable steps, too—so many, in fact, that many beliefs have changed or are in the process of changing.

One well-known cancer expert informed me recently that a textbook on cancer that is more than three years old is considered almost out of date.

In the last 10 years we have come a long way in our fight against cancer. Unfortunately, we may have a long way yet to go. But we'll get there, mark my words. Whether it is a cure or merely an indefinite remission, we will come up with something one of these days.

Question and Answer
Mrs. M. M.: My daughter, 17, perspires excessively under the arms. Daily use of a deodorant and dress shields do not help.

Is there anything that can help this condition?

Answer: Excessive perspiration may be perfectly normal in a 17-year-old girl but may subside at a later age. Under-arm shaving and use of anti-perspirants may help during this period.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration is nudging the Allies to share the big daddy role. Since World War II this country has shelled out more than 68 billion dollars in foreign aid of all kinds.

The administration is also beginning to talk of the pullback of American troops from Europe. Not immediately, according to Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy, but eventually.

Both Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Undersecretary Douglas Dillon have joined President Eisenhower in calling on the Allies—in Japan and Europe—to join this country in a stepped-up drive of aid to backward nations.

This idea isn't likely to encounter much opposition in this country but an attempt at a troop pullback any time soon will touch off a fiery fight at home.

The administration could argue in defense of a troop withdrawal that the only real defense of Western Europe lies in missiles and that NATO defense will depend less and less on ground forces.

But Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been calling for withdrawal of both American troops and bases from Europe.

No one here is suggesting abandoning United States bases in Europe since the planes and missiles there are the main deterrent to any Soviet aggression.

But the advocates of a strong NATO—the Atlantic Alliance—would probably interpret a troop pullback not only as an appeasement of Khrushchev but a return toward American isolation.

They could argue that the troops are not only needed on the Continent—to help swell the size of the Allied ground troops—but that their very presence there is assurance of American solidarity.

In the opening session of the chamber's 66th annual meeting here, Hugo H. Young said business is trying to determine the extent Ohio may have lost its attractiveness to industry because of additional taxes imposed on industry.

"Ohio's easy coasting into phenomenal new industrial growth is at an end," Young said. "The character of the road ahead is changing. The going is tougher. We face a harder uphill climb."

Research into comparison of business taxes in 17 industrially-competing states with those of Ohio already is being undertaken by the Ohio chamber, Young said.

The aim, he said, is to obtain an accurate appraisal of Ohio's business climate prior to the 1961 session of the Ohio General Assembly, and, if needed, to seek correction of the situation.

Referring to the new state tax imposed on business this year by the Ohio Legislature, Young said: "The impact of Ohio's newly tripled corporate franchise and greatly expanded sales tax is not yet measurable. On the sales tax, much will be determined by administrative attitude; that is whether the Ohio tax administrators stress equity, or employ a policy of harrassment."

Bothered by Bells
ST. LOUIS (AP)—City Collector Del Bannister, whose campaign for stricter enforcement of the St. Louis earnings tax has brought him a flood of crank telephone calls, can't get away from his ringing telephone.

He applied for a device which would allow him to silence his telephone bell at night. But he was advised by the telephone company it does not have authority to shut off service in such a manner.

Mistake of Living Too Soon

Alchemists of old who believed it possible to turn lead into gold had an instinctive perception of the truth about matter. Their mistake was in living too soon.

Today civilization is poised on the brink of an age when miracles become everyday affairs through man's knowledge of election chemistry. This is no dream of tomorrow but rather the reality of today.

Barron's magazine tells of a two-year-old business located in California which is doing a booming business. Sales are almost double those of the first year, while profits have increased five-fold. The company's business is radiation chemistry, creating new materials.

Electron beam generators are used to bombard various substances with atomic particles to produce new materials. At the moment the technique is being applied to obtain high temperature, flame-resistant insulation for wire and cable. Company officials say the possibilities are so great they hardly know where to begin.

According to Barron's, startling accomplishments are possible with radiation chemistry. Sawdust can be converted into a "digestible" though not very tasty fodder for livestock. Sugar becomes an acid. Shoe leather can be made waterproof and ordinary household ammonia turned into a rocket fuel.

Civilization's race between education and chaos continues apace. If today's generations of spectators and participants feel overly nervous as to the outcome, this is understandable. Looking over the world's trouble spots and reflecting on the conflicting ideologies of freedom and statism gives an impression that education may be faltering at a crucial time.

As always, though, hope for the future is defined by the past. Yesterday's threatened disasters have provided an age of everyday miracles instead.

Farmers Are In Squeeze

Despite the billions of dollars the U. S. government has poured into the agricultural program, net farm income dropped sharply in the third quarter of this year.

The $95 billion annual rate netted by farmers in the quarter was more than 17 per cent below the total of the preceding three months and 28 per cent under the net income of the third quarter of 1958. The figures are from President Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisers.

This decline was bad enough but, making matters worse, the prices farmers had to pay for nonagricultural goods and services went up at the same time.

Underlying the farmers' squeeze between lower prices and higher costs were the lush crops and high livestock production made possible by advances in agricultural science and technology.

On top of this were the huge growing surpluses and the old law of supply and demand which was still at work despite the artificial strains imposed upon it by the federal price support program. Some improvement in the farm picture is expected by the end of the year.

Yet should the council achieve its total projected farm income of about $11 billion for 1959, it would still be $2 billion, or 15 per cent, under 1958.

Milestones for Mortal Man

NEW YORK (AP)—There are certain milestones in living which, once reached, change your life forever.

Such a milestone is your first real case of puppy love, the first time you break a bone and realize that your body is not immortal but mortal, marriage, and your first child.

After that the milestones become a bit glum. I am thinking of your 40th birthday, the day the dentist says, "I'm sorry, but I'll have to put in a partial plate," and the day you finally decide to wear glasses.

I am at this last landmark now.

"I don't want to look like an executive," I tell her. "I just want to go on looking like Clark Gable—or maybe Marshal Dillon."

I was in a railway terminal the other day and couldn't make out the number on the phone directory. I hailed an elderly stranger and asked his help.

"Certainly," he said, pulling a pair of glasses from his pocket. He gave me the number.

We Need Passport Law

The effort of the State Department to obtain a Congressional decision as to what an American passport is and who is entitled to one ought not to be withheld. If Communists or anarchists or felons or anyone else is not entitled to an American passport, the decision must be in Congress and can be nowhere else. Congress should pass a law.

To how how desperate the case can be, take this testimony before the House Committee on Un-American Activities. The witness is Martin Popper, a New York lawyer. He was shown a copy of his passport application which contains three questions, as follows:

"Are you now a member of the Communist Party? (Write 'yes' or 'no')"

"Have you ever been a member of the Communist Party? (Write 'yes' or 'no')"

"If ever a member, state period of membership from—to—"

Frank S. Tavenner, counsel for the committee, engaged in the following colloquy with Popper:

"...Do you observe any answer was given to any one of those three questions?"

"Mr. Popper. No; there was no answer to any of the questions."

"Mr. Tavenner. Why did you not answer those questions?"

"Mr. Popper. Because it had been decided by the Supreme Court the State Department had no authority or power to ask the questions."

"Mr. Tavenner. The purpose of this year, Mr. Popper, is to determine, among other things, whether or not the Secretary of State should be given authority, by legislation, to require passport applicants to furnish information of the nature called for in these three questions."

"I would, therefore, like to ask you if at the time you executed your application for a passport you were a member of the Communist Party?"

"Mr. Popper. I respectfully decline to answer that question, Mr. Tavenner, on the following grounds: I understand the Supreme Court's decision in the Watkins Case to mean that this Committee's authorizing resolution is so vague that to compel testimony under it would violate the due process clause of the Federal Constitution and the jurisdiction which the Committee has assumed is so limitless that its inquiries into the area of speech, press, or political belief and association abridges the freedoms guaranteed by the First Amendment."

"Furthermore, the subject matter of this investigation is equally limitless and, therefore, violates these same constitutional guarantees."

"I add that to the extent it is ascertainable, to the extent that the subject matter of his inquiry is ascertainable, this Committee is not authorized by Congress to conduct it."

"Therefore, I respectfully contend that the Committee has no authority to conduct this investigation."

"I also decline to answer the question because I do not believe it is pertinent."

"Mr. Tavenner. You object, then, on the ground of pertinence, as well as the ground of jurisdiction?"

"Mr. Popper. Yes, on all of the grounds which I have just stated."

This is a very long quotation from the record but it states the entire case for the need for legislation. The Supreme Court, in the Watkins Decision, deprived the State Department of the right to decide who is and who is not entitled to a passport, but it gave that right to no other department of government.

This means that passports are exit permits and re-entry permits for American citizens but that the United States may not determine whether it will or will not grant such an exit permit. The Supreme Court decision in the Watkins Case was not good law or practical administration. Congress must therefore provide good law and the Passport Office practical administration.

Bills to correct the errors of the Watkins Decision have been introduced in Congress. We are living in a troubled world. "I received an invitation from one of the distinguished lawyers who was a member of the Soviet legal delegation to go to the Soviet Union and to talk to the lawyers there about my observations of the Nuremberg trial."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

OLIVER TOWNE, St. Paul wit, visited the deep South recently, and came home with these valuable definitions:

ABODE: Wooden plank.
BALKS: A container, as in "balks of matches."
BECKON: Meat from pig often eaten with eggs.
COAT: A place of justice; "Coat's in session."
FAINTS: A barricade of wood or brick.
LACK: To enjoy. "I lack fried chicken."
TARRED: Weary.
TIN SIN STOW: Wool-worth's.

A well-known TV executive paid an analyst $5,000 to cure him of a deep-set inferiority complex. The cure was effective. Two days later the executive was fined $100 for bawling out a traffic cop.

Cancer Strides Under Way

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Maybe we never will be able to cure cancer, but chances are that at least we will be able to hold the disease completely in check. And that's almost as good as a cure. Take diabetes as an example.

We still can't cure the disease. Yet in the vast majority of cases we can control it simply by administering small regular doses of insulin and by watching our diets.

It wasn't too many years ago that a diagnosis of diabetes was a pronouncement of death.

Admittedly, daily doses of insulin are a bit bothersome. But many patients no longer need injections; they can take their insulin orally. It's as easy as swallowing an aspirin.

Perhaps we still are a long way from a solution to the cancer problem, but when we do come up with a solution, it might be a drug or some sort of medication that will hold the disease in check rather than eliminating it entirely.

This possibility is not something that I have just pulled from my imagination. Medical science already has done quite a bit along this line with one form of cancer—leukemia.

While we have not been able to bring about a cure, we have been able to prolong life considerably. For short periods, we have brought about remissions in the disease in many, many instances. And during these remissions, the victims of leukemia, generally children, appear perfectly healthy.

This is a big step forward in our fight against cancer, possibly the biggest. There have been many other sizable steps, too—so many, in fact, that many beliefs have changed or are in the process of changing.

One well-known cancer expert informed me recently that a new textbook on cancer that is more than three years old is considered almost out of date.

In the last 10 years we have come a long way in our fight

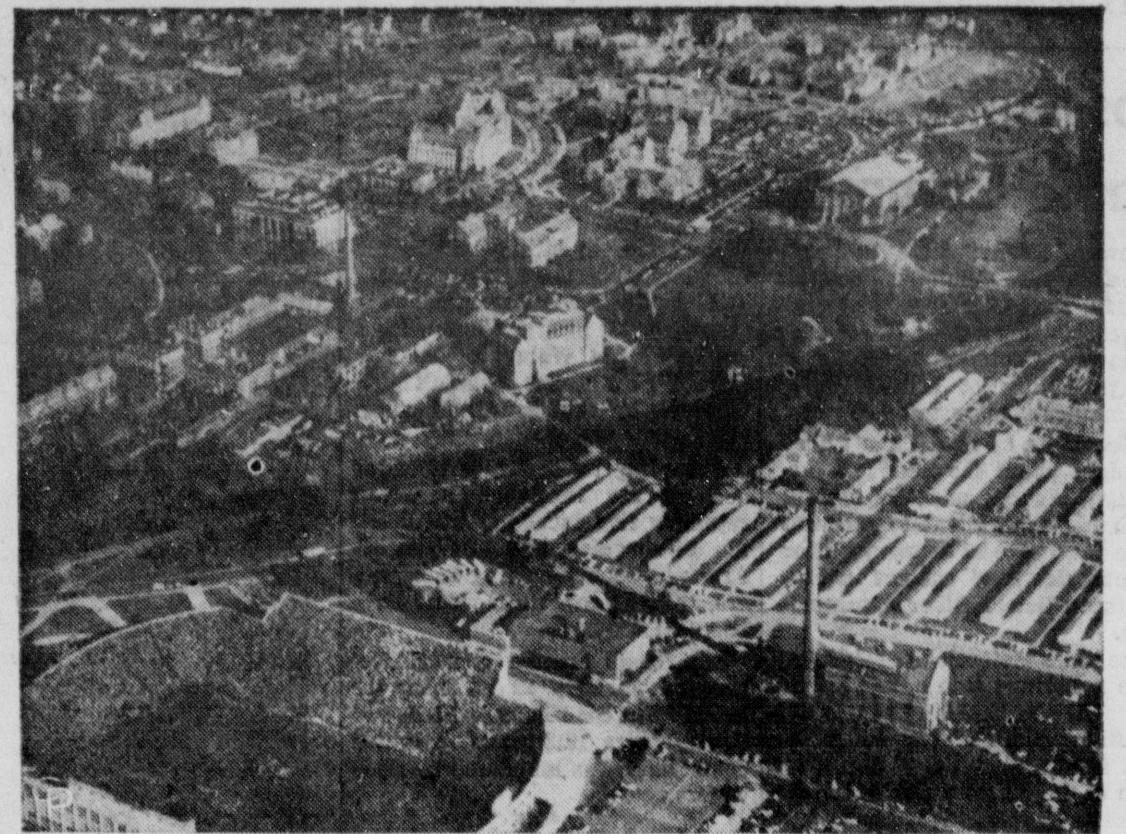

SHARK BAIT—Lifeguard Duffie Fryling, 21, displays a bandaged arm and a now carefree smile in Malibu, Calif., after being a lesson to a school of sharks. He was hunting lobsters and almost became a meal himself when a shark got him by the arm. He pried loose and swam for his life as a whole school of lifeguard-eating sharks chased him to beach.

MICHIGAN STATE THREATENED WITH CLOSING—This is Michigan State university, threatened with closing by the state's financial chaos. There are some 20,000 students and 1,500 teaching personnel. State Comptroller James W. Miller announced that unless adequate taxes are enacted soon, drastic cuts will have to be made in the state's universities. Michigan State President John A. Hannah said that rather than cut enrollment and faculty, the institution might better close Jan. 1, 1960.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration is nudging the Allies to share the big daddy role. Since World War II this country has shelled out more than 68 billion dollars in foreign aid of all kinds.

The administration is also beginning to talk of the pullback of American troops from Europe. Not immediately, according to Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy, but eventually.

Both Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Undersecretary Douglas Dillon have joined President Eisenhower in calling on the Allies—in Japan and Europe—to join this country in a stepped-up drive of aid to backward nations.

This idea isn't likely to encounter much opposition in this country but an attempt at a troop pullback any time soon will touch off a fiery fight at home.

The administration could argue in defense of a troop withdrawal that the only real defense of Western Europe lies in missiles and that NATO defense will depend less and less on ground forces.

But Premier Nikita Khrushchev has been calling for withdrawal of both American troops and bases from Europe.

No one here is suggesting abandoning United States bases in Europe since the planes and missiles there are the main deterrent to any Soviet aggression.

But the advocates of a strong NATO—the Atlantic Alliance—would probably interpret a troop pullback not only as an appeasement of Khrushchev but a return toward American isolation.

They could argue that the troops are not only needed on the Continent—to help swell the size of the Allied ground troops—but that their very presence there is assurance of American solidarity.

In the opening session of the chamber's 66th annual meeting here, Hugo H. Young said business is trying to determine the extent Ohio may have lost its attractiveness to industry because of additional taxes imposed on industry.

"Ohio's easy coasting into phenomenal new industrial growth is at an end," Young said. "The character of the road ahead is changing. The going is tougher. We face a harder uphill climb."

Research into comparison of business taxes in 17 industrially-competent states with those of Ohio already is being undertaken by the Ohio chamber, Young said.

The aim, he said, is to obtain an accurate appraisal of Ohio's business climate prior to the 1961 session of the Ohio General Assembly, and, if needed, to seek correction of the situation.

Referring to the new state tax imposed on business this year by the Ohio Legislature, Young said:

"The impact of Ohio's newly tripled corporate franchise and greatly expanded sales tax is not yet measurable. On the sales tax, much will be determined by administrative attitude; that is whether the Ohio tax administrators stress equity, or employ a policy of harassment. . . ."

Bothered by Bells

ST. LOUIS (AP)—City Collector Del Bannister, whose campaign for stricter enforcement of the St. Louis earnings tax has brought him a flood of crank telephone calls, can't get away from his ringing telephone.

He applied for a device which would allow him to silence his telephone bell at night. But he was advised by the telephone company it does not have authority to shut off service in such a manner.

Northern Ireland's leading industry is agriculture—no doubt about it. Within 5,459 square miles of land there are some 90,000 small, neatly spaced farms.

In Long Beach, Calif., due to a wiring defect an air raid siren sounded for 45 minutes. It was followed, naturally, by a much longer squawk—from the neighbors.

On the wall of the Russian embassy in Washington a huge painting of the late Onkle Choe Stalin has been replaced by one of—who else?—Nikita Khrushchev. Guess that makes it official.

The Duke of Norfolk is moving out of ancient Arundel castle—says it's too expensive. A man's home may be his castle—but a castle need not necessarily be a home.

We're not surprised at the belligerent tone of some of those World War II generals' memoirs. It's only natural an ex-soldier would use fighting words!

In the last six months, we read, men stationed in the Antarctic wrote an average of 300 letters each. The total was more than 60,000—but we doubt if a single one carried the famous line: "Am having a fine time. Wish you were here!"

A Hartford, Conn., 105-year-old voted for the first. Well, he's had a long time to study the political situation.

A 3,000-year-old set of false teeth in good condition has been discovered in an Egyptian tomb. Look, mummy—no cavities!

BALL BAT FATAL—Mrs. Catherine Hummel, 57, sullenly smokes a cigaret in Ardmore Park, Pa., after being taken in custody in the baseball bat death of her husband Robert, 58. He was killed by an easy chair. "I gave him a sock, but I didn't kill him," she insisted.

$100,000, PLEASE?—Holding a medal given to him by the Treasury department in 1941 for patriotic services he and the late Lou Costello performed, straight man Bud Abbott appeals to his fans to help him raise $100,000 to pay off back taxes which broke him. If each fan would send him 50 cents, he said, he thinks he could pull out of the hole. "If this doesn't work, it's the last of me," the white-haired, 64-year-old performer said.

Ohio Edison Asks Increase in Rates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rural and small town residents in central and northeastern Ohio will pay more for electricity if the state Utilities Commission approves an application filed today by Ohio Edison Co.

Edison wants to raise its rates for home and small business electric service in rural areas and communities of less than 1,000 persons. The proposed increases would amount to about 2 1/4 million dollars a year, the company estimated.

The utilities surveyed a 35-county area in Ohio, but islands in Lake Erie are not affected by the proposal. More money is needed to keep up with customer demands, Edison said.

To Cost $5 Billion New Foreign Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new foreign aid program with a five-billion-dollar price tag has been drawn up on a tentative basis by the State Department.

The total is expected to be cut perhaps as much as a billion dollars when Budget Bureau experts make a close check on the proposal during the next three weeks.

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati has extended its cooperative plan in engineering to graduate students, and the Ford Foundation has granted the school $200,000 to help pay faculty salaries and get the program operating. 18,600-Foot Plunge Is Made into Ocean

GUAM (AP)—"At the surface the sunlit water appeared as an electrifying blue, after a thousand feet the sea darkened to a midnight black."

Thus Dr. Andreas B. Rechnitzer described a record dive of 18,600 feet under the sea in the bathyscap "Trieste" in the vast Marianas Trench off Guam Sunday. The previous record was 13,400 feet.

With Rechnitzer on the dive was Dr. Jacques Piccard, co-builder with his father, Prof. Auguste Piccard, of the 75-ton diving chamber.

Mrs. Touchette discovered her predicament when she tried to sell the house. Now she wants the Township Council to sell her the road.

SINGLE-INJURY CANCER

• Fibroids • Gasoline Binge.

Q. Can cancer be caused by injury?

A. Many readers keep asking this question. Continued irritation or repeated tissue injury may lead to cancer but it is doubtful whether a single injury can. Breast cancer may be an exception. (In a study of 920 women with breast cancer, 120 remembered some slight injury before trouble developed.) In most other cases of supposedly single-injury cancer, the growth is usually noticed shortly after the injury. Recent studies suggest that quite a long time elapses between the very first start of the cancerous process and the development of outward signs of trouble. If this proves true, a cancerous growth might smolder along for months before it would become noticeable. Internal cancers might take even longer to develop enough to cause recognizable signs. It seems reasonably safe to say that, in general, an injury today isn't followed by cancer tomorrow or next week.

Dolls Mirror Family Life

DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Today's little girls will be expert homemakers and baby-sitters before they are ten, if the current trend in dolls and toys continues.

The family motif is strong in dolls destined for the 1959 toy pack and the national trend toward big families is reflected in the doll population. Nowadays it's not enough for a small girl to get just one new doll for Christmas—she wants a whole family, beginning with a baby doll and continuing through all age groups to the teen-ager.

The new crop of dolls is meticulously dressed in the right clothes for each age—nursery, kindergarten, junior high and debutante. Baby dolls are equipped with the last word in scientific infant wear; school-age dolls have their plaid skirts, Bermuda shorts and sweaters. The glamor girls have extensive wardrobes for specialized occasions, from the backyard barbecue to the Senior prom and the ski slope to the cocktail dance. Today's dolls may have dude ranch outfits, gardening clothes and loungewear.

Life-size dolls also are important on the current scene. One group has dolls modeled exactly according to government statistics as to children's average height from babyhood to six years. Thus a four-year-old child now may have a playmate doll exactly her own size, the six-year-old has a size six doll and so on.

Some dolls encourage good grooming, with kits for hair, skin and dental care. Others have specialized aims, such as the "get-well" doll, which has measles spots that come and go, crutches, bandages and even a cast. Toy Guidance Council reports. Another new high in realism is the "go-to-bed" doll, which not only has smart pajamas, bathrobe and toothbrush, but an electric candle.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

If Gander Goofs, Punish Him

DEAR ABBY: My husband spends anywhere from one hour to an hour and a half in the bathroom every morning. I don't think it should take any able bodied man that long to shave, shower and brush his teeth. (I think he reads in there.)

I wouldn't object, but we have only one bathroom in our house for my husband, myself and our 3 school-age children, and he often makes the children late for school. My sister-in-law tells me that her husband, who is a brother to my husband, is exactly the same way. Does it run in families, I wonder? And can you offer a solution?

MIN

DEAR MIN: Lack of consideration for others obviously "runs" in your husband's family. Call a family powwow. Set up a time schedule, allowing each member of the family a fair share of time in the bathroom. (No reading!) Punish all violators. If the gander goofs, he'll have to take his medicine just like the goose and the gosling—with no quack coming!

DEAR ABBY: Roy and I have just celebrated our fourth wedding anniversary. He didn't even kiss me because he has his foot in a cast. There was another spell between November 6, 1958 and March 19, 1959 when he wouldn't kiss me.

He is okay once you get him going, but he will never start any thing on his own. I feel like a beggar.

Is this the way married life should be? Or am I expecting too much? I would like to have a family, but the way things are going, my chances are small. I am 24 and Roy is 26. What do you suggest?

INVOLVED

DEAR INVOLVED: You are not expecting too much and you will never be "expecting" if you don't resolve your problem. Roy is not behaving like a healthy normal man of 26. He needs a physical examination from the feet up.

Dear Abby: I am a girl of 14. My brother Jack is 16. Jack isn't getting along with our father mainly because Dad won't let him have a car. Dad says Jack's grades are too poor. Jack worked all summer and saved enough for a down-payment on a second-hand car. He works week-ends and after school so he could pay it off himself. Dad still says he can't have one anyway. Jack told me he plans to run away. He's been studying maps of Colorado. So I know he means it. How can I keep Jack from going through with his plan without telling Dad?

WORRIED SIS

DEAR SIS: Unless you have an unusual amount of influence with your brother, this is no job for you. Where's your mother? Perhaps she can convince Jack that "running away" is no way to solve his problem. If mother isn't able to help, appeal to an adult whose judgment Jack respects. If there is positively no one to whom Jack will listen, tell your Dad.

What's your problem? For a personal reply write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

If Gander Goofs, Punish Him

DEAR ABBY: My husband spends anywhere from one hour to an hour and a half in the bathroom every morning. I don't think it should take any able bodied man that long to shave, shower and brush his teeth. (I think he reads in there.)

I wouldn't object, but we have only one bathroom in our house for my husband, myself and our 3 school-age children, and he often makes the children late for school. My sister-in-law tells me that her husband, who is a brother to my husband, is exactly the same way. Does it run in families, I wonder? And can you offer a solution?

MIN

DEAR MIN: Lack of consideration for others obviously "runs" in your husband's family. Call a family powwow. Set up a time schedule, allowing each member of the family a fair share of time in the bathroom. (No reading!) Punish all violators. If the gander goofs, he'll have to take his medicine just like the goose and the

Riders of Television Range
Now Staging Minor Uprising

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The whole town's talking about the Burbank mutiny.

Never have so many actors been so unhappy as in the Warner Bros. TV productions.

Wayde Preston (Colt .45) has walked off the lot and gone into the airplane business, complaining that his contract was "as equitable as a lynch party."

Edd Byrnes (77 Sunset Strip) refused to report for work until he got a raise. He gets $400 weekly, says he takes home only $284. James Garner (Maverick) and Clint Walker (Cheyenne) are bitter about their contracts. Says Garner: "I feel like a slab of meat hanging there; every once in a while they cut off a piece."

Peter Brown (Lawman) is trying to get a new contract.

Will Hutchins (Sugarfoot) says he feels like a "pen actor."

Jack Kelly (Maverick) is not mulling revolt but feels he is working "in an area of servitude."

Ty Hardin (Bronco), who once threatened a walkout, now appears content. So are Efrem Zimbalist and Roger Smith, the sleuths of "77 Sunset Strip," and John Russell (Lawman).

Of course, it's not unusual for actors to complain; it's chronic with their craft. Nor is Warner Bros. an unfamiliar battle ground.

But there has never been such a mass uprising as among the cowpokes of the TV range. The situation even reached the point of an official complaint from the Screen Actors Guild. A hasty meeting of Guild and studio officials reached an agreement to rectify certain working conditions.

The actors claimed they were due money in six figures for alleged contract violations, mostly involving overtime.

But the settlement hasn't stopped the beefs. The battle is an old one, between the studio which feels I created stars from nothing and the stars who feel they are misused. It is aggravated because of the immense volume of work required for TV, plus the fact that the new medium creates stars so fast.

The studio's official reply to the restless actors comes from William T. Orr, television executive producer and himself once an actor.

"Warner Bros. contracts have made it possible for many players to develop from complete unknowns in a brief time. These contracts, signed in good faith by both parties, have opened the door to opportunity and advancement," Orr said.

Ex-Works Director
Named Engineer Aide

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Richard M. Larimer, who resigned last week as director of the Ohio Department of Public Works, has been named assistant to the president of A. M. Kinney, Inc., consulting engineers, Cincinnati.

Larimer will represent the firm in Columbus.

Larimer resigned after two years as public works director. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said after naming T. S. Kauer, Wooster, to the post, that Larimer had resigned and was not being replaced.

To Be Above Ground

PARIS (AP) — Francis Perrin French atomic energy chief, said today the French atomic bomb test in the Sahara will be above ground.

Private Housing Starts
Drop 13 Pct. in Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today that private housing starts fell 13 per cent last month—much more than usual for this time of year.

The annual rate on housing starts in October was 1,180,000, the Census Bureau estimated. This figure, adjusted for seasonal fluctuations, was sharply below the September rate of 1,325,000.

Irish Envoy
Sending Son
Back Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—Irish Ambassador John Joseph Hearne announced today that his son David Patrick, 21, whose brushes with the law were climaxed last week when his automobile killed a woman pedestrian, is being sent back to Ireland.

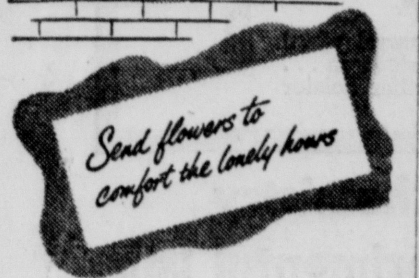

David, who has been studying at American University for the past year, was driving from Washington to the University of Maryland last Wednesday evening when his car struck and killed Jessie Hamlin, 54, a Negro domestic. Her body was knocked 41 feet.

The fatal accident touched off a furor when diplomatic immunity was invoked. That prevented police from charging him and coroner A. Magruder MacDonald canceled an inquest.

After the accident, police disclosed that David had figured in four incidents of disorderly conduct involving policemen over a period of several months. Police filed a report of David's activities with the State Department.

On Sunday, David and his father went to Courtland, Va., to attend funeral services for Mrs. Hamlin. There the ambassador rose to express his sorrow for the death of Mrs. Hamlin. He told an overflow congregation at the funeral service that his government would do everything in its power to help Mrs. Hamlin's family.

Actors Tell Why They Leave Television's Old Corral

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Why does a star walk out of a TV series and go into another business?

Wayne Preston, the lead in Warner Bros. "Colt .45" and now an executive of an air charter and sales firm, tells why.

"I made 26 films last year, working 16 to 18 hours a day with personal appearances on the weekend. My net for the year was $7,200. I can make more money elsewhere," Preston says. "It wasn't just the hard work and low pay. The studio did petty things that added insult to injury. I got tired of being treated like an ingenue."

Preston was not the first to revolt against the Warner TV regime. Tight-chinned Clint Walker vanished from the "Cheyenne" range for nine months last year. He resumed the series with a new deal, but is still discontented.

"I signed with the studio under the impression I was going to do feature pictures," he complains. "I wound up as a TV actor. If I continue in a series, it can do nothing but hurt my career."

Edd Byrnes, the Kookie of "77 Sunset Strip," didn't report for work last week when talks for a new contract broke down. He doesn't feel he can support his booming career on $284 take-home pay.

James Garner is growing more restless in the "Maverick" corral. "I'm not taking any action right now, because it's like beating your head against the wall," he said. "I think I have rights as an actor and as a human being that are not being recognized."

His TV brother, Jack Kelly, is not as militant, but he has his complaints. "We have no opportunity to parlay what popularity we have achieved through the series," he said. "The studio wants half the money we would get for rodeos, etc., so why try?"

Ty Hardin, who replaced Walker and later got his own "Bronco" series, comments: "Like everyone else, I don't feel I'm getting what I deserve. But I'm making more money than I did as an electrical engineer."

Efrem Zimbalist and Roger Smith, the crime-hunting sidekicks of "77 Sunset Strip," both declare they are very happy with their present setups.

Only One Cranberry Batch Found Unfit

CINCINNATI (AP)—Only one of 60 lots of cranberries tested by federal chemists here turned up traces of weed killer aminothiazole says Samuel Alfend, Food and Drug Administration chief here. Alfend said of 70 lots brought here for tests, "we know 60 are all right," and the rest are still under study.

Young Dems Gathering For Toledo Conference

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The Democrats' choice for president will be a prime topic today when 1,500 delegates from 50 states gather for the 11th biennial national convention of the Young Democratic Clubs of America. Former President Harry S. Truman winds up the convention with a speech Saturday evening at the Sports Arena. Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle will deliver the keynote address Thursday after a welcoming speech by William Coleman, state Democratic chairman. Paul M. Butler, national Democratic chairman, will follow DiSalle to the rostrum.

New Ohio Compensation Laws Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The effects of new Ohio legislation on workers and business alike was discussed today at the 66th annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce.

Walter E. Taylor, actuary for the Ohio Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, spelled out just what the newly increased compensation rate will cost Ohio firms. "Using the predicted level of benefits," he said, "we found that it would require almost 19 1/2 million dollars..." in addition to the approximately 100 million dollars needed under the old law.

He cautioned businessmen about being misled by the present apparent lower rate of increase in collections because it does not represent a full year of operation. He said that from Nov. 2 when the new rates became effective until June 30, 1960, increased compensation would cost about 14 1/2 million.

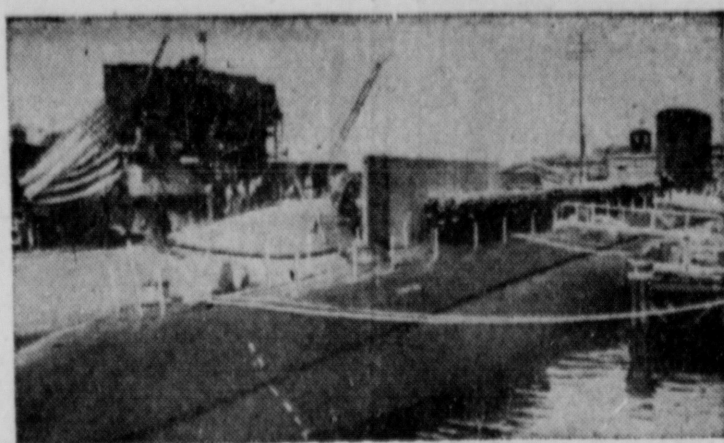

James L. Young, administrator for the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, explained the new compensation law to the convention.

For the first time, he said, public officials and the state militia are covered under the compensation act. The militia is covered if on duty under order of the governor such as in a flood. The maximum weekly compensation benefit is now $49, up from the old $40.25. The minimum rate for total disability benefits is now $25 a week, up from the old $14.

Both Taylor and Young encouraged businessmen to make use of the special services offered by the bureau. They cited special booklets and other materials explaining the compensation acts and benefits to both the company officials and employees who are affected.

2 Cincy Chain Markets Offer Cranberries Again

CINCINNATI (AP)—Canned cranberries to back on shelves of Kroger and Albers chain markets in Greater Cincinnati after clearance by the office of the Pure Food and Drug Administration. Officials of both firms announced the moves Tuesday, and said all cranberry products had been removed from stores last week after federal officials warned of finding some cranberries contaminated with weed killer.

Ohio Hospital Staffs Ponder Vital Problem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two important questions must be answered by Ohio's mental hospitals staffs in a study of care for the aged and alcoholics being directed by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

By mid-December the 25 hospital staffs must know: Is the patient physically and mentally able to leave the hospital and, if so, into what setting should the patient be placed outside the institution?

Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, said the Finance Department prepared a list of about 8,400 aged (over age 65) and alcoholic patients.

The governor's study is designed to find ways, other than mental hospital treatment, of caring for these two classes of patients. Aged patients require a great deal of the hospital attendants' time, it was explained, and it is hoped the study may lead to means of giving primary attention to the mentally ill.

Mrs. Mary Gorman, director of welfare, is chairman of the committee. Dr. Ralph E. Dwork of the Health Department and Director James H. Maloon of the Finance Department are other members.

Youngstown Firm Hit By Fair Trade Restrainer

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Discount Health & Beauty Aids, Inc. here was enjoined by Common Pleas Judge Erskine Maiden Jr. Tuesday from selling eight cosmetic products at below Ohio fair trade prices. The restrainer, believed to be the first under the four-week-old Ohio fair trade law, was sought by Revlon, Inc. of New York City, manufacturer of the eight products involved. Judge Maiden said he would decide later on Revlon's petition for an award of $9,300 in damages.

Soaring Population Growth Said Threat to U.S. Health

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Public Health Assn. today termed soaring population growth a threat to the health of millions, and called for more attention to the means of regulating family size.

The problem should be an integral part of civic health programs the association said.

In the first policy statement ever made on the subject by the 87-year-old professional society, it said: "The public health profession has long taken leadership in defeating disease, disability and death. It must now assume equal leadership in understanding public health implications of population imbalance and in taking appropriate action."

The 13,000-member association includes public health officials at community, state, national and inter-American levels.

It said current population increase "threatens the health and well-being of many millions of people."

In some areas, the statement said, the threat is malnutrition or is increased family stress, reduced educational opportunities, retarded industrial development, crippled economies.

"Especially lacking is scientific knowledge concerning human fertility," the association said.

"The healthful effects of family planning and spacing of births has been recognized by leaders of all major religious groups, as well as by leaders in medicine, welfare and public affairs."

The Roman Catholic Church opposes any artificial means of birth control, but does allow the so-called "rhythm method" in certain cases, whereby intercourse is avoided in likely periods of conception.

The statement was adopted by the association's 162-member governing council, including representatives of 14 health specialties and of 49 state, regional and territorial branches.

DiSalle Plans Inspections in East States

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle will meet with mental health officials of four eastern states next week before he sets up a "stimulated" Ohio program for 1960.

The governor indicated he might give an advance hint of his ideas in an address today at a luncheon of the Cleveland Mental Health Assn.

Next Monday DiSalle will meet with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and mental health officials in Albany. Then he will go to Boston, Mass., for more discussions and a possible meeting with Gov. Foster Furcolo.

On Tuesday DiSalle will meet with Delaware's Gov. J. Caleb Boggs and state health officials near Wilmington. Later he will talk with Connecticut health administrators and Gov. Abraham Ribicoff at Hartford.

DiSalle, who recently toured all Ohio mental and penal institutions, said he had gained a number of ideas on his Ohio tour.

"I know the things I want to discuss," DiSalle told newsmen Tuesday. "I want to get the recommendations (for an Ohio program) this year so that next year we can start out on a stimulated program."

The governor said he wanted to check his own ideas with other states' officials.

DiSalle plans to leave for the four states Sunday by Highway Patrol or private plane. He said he selected the states after consulting a manual of the American Psychiatric Assn. and the National Assn. for Mental Health. Ohio was ranked 10th to 41st among the various categories listed in the manual. The groupings included such items as full time employees, outpatient clinics and the like.

DiSalle said he thinks he will be "in a position to make recommendations" when he returns from the trip.

Ohio Hereford Awarded Grand Champion Prize

TIMONIUM, Md. (AP)—A 950-pound Hereford steer shown by 4-H clubber Dennis Hinrichs, 18, of Woodville, Ohio, was judged the grand champion steer at the Eastern National Livestock Show Tuesday.

The champion goes to auction to the highest bidder today. Last year a packing house paid a record price of $4.01 a pound for the grand champion. The current market price for cattle is about 29 cents a pound.

Nickel was considered a comparatively rare metal until the latter part of the 19th Century, when extensive ore deposits were discovered on the island of New Caledonia in the South Pacific. The island remained the world's chief source of nickel until early this century, when Canadian production surpassed it.

Soaring Population Growth Said Threat to U.S. Health

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Public Health Assn. today termed soaring population growth a threat to the health of millions, and called for more attention to the means of regulating family size.

The problem should be an integral part of civic health programs the association said.

In the first policy statement ever made on the subject by the 87-year-old professional society, it said: "The public health profession has long taken leadership in defeating disease, disability and death. It must now assume equal leadership in understanding public health implications of population imbalance and in taking appropriate action."

The 13,000-member association includes public health officials at community, state, national and inter-American levels.

It said current population increase "threatens the health and well-being of many millions of people."

In some areas, the statement said, the threat is malnutrition or is increased family stress, reduced educational opportunities, retarded industrial development, crippled economies.

"Especially lacking is scientific knowledge concerning human fertility," the association said.

"The healthful effects of family planning and spacing of births have been recognized by leaders of all major religious groups, as well as by leaders in medicine, welfare and public affairs."

The Roman Catholic Church opposes any artificial means of birth control, but does allow the so-called "rhythm method" in certain cases, whereby intercourse is avoided in likely periods of conception.

The statement was adopted by the association's 162-member governing council, including representatives of 14 health specialties and of 49 state, regional and territorial branches.

DiSalle Plans Inspections in East States

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle will meet with mental health officials of four eastern states next week before he sets up a "stimulated" Ohio program for 1960.

The governor indicated he might give an advance hint of his ideas in an address today at a luncheon of the Cleveland Mental Health Assn.

Next Monday DiSalle will meet with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and mental health officials in Albany. Then he will go to Boston, Mass., for more discussions and a possible meeting with Gov. Foster Furcolo.

On Tuesday DiSalle will meet with Delaware's Gov. J. Caleb Boggs and state health officials near Wilmington. Later he will talk with Connecticut health administrators and Gov. Abraham Ribicoff at Hartford.

DiSalle, who recently toured all Ohio mental and penal institutions, said he had gained a number of ideas on his Ohio tour.

"I know the things I want to discuss," DiSalle told newsmen Tuesday. "I want to get the recommendations (for an Ohio program) this year so that next year we can start out on a stimulated program."

The governor said he wanted to check his own ideas with other states' officials.

DiSalle plans to leave for the four states Sunday by Highway Patrol or private plane. He said he selected the states after consulting a manual of the American Psychiatric Assn. and the National Assn. for Mental Health. Ohio was ranked 10th to 41st among the various categories listed in the manual. The groupings included such items as full time employees, outpatient clinics and the like.

DiSalle said he thinks he will be "in a position to make recommendations" when he returns from the trip.

Speed and Power Feature Six-Man All-Star Selection

The 1959 Pickaway County All-Star Six-Man Football League team represents the "cream of the crop" with five talented backfield men and one aggressive lineman.

The first team finds three seniors, two juniors and a sophomore in the lineup. The lone lineman is George Clifton, Saltcreek's hard hitting junior center.

The five backs are seniors—Richard Bussert, Stoutsville; Thomas Walters, Darby; and Roy Sanders, Scioto; Junior—Thomas Harber, Walnut; and Sophomore—Roger Clarke, Saltcreek.

Darby, Walnut, Stoutsville and Scioto each placed one man on the first five while Saltcreek had two players named to the squad.

THE SECOND team is composed of one senior, two juniors and three sophomores. Scioto, Darby, Pickaway and Stoutsville each placed one man on the second team and Walnut placed two youths.

Second team members are Robert Whiteside, Scioto; Clarence Gray and David Weaver, Walnut; James Anderson, Stoutsville; Richard Dean, Pickaway, and Jerry Vance, Darby.

The All-Star team was selected by coaches of the county six-man league and conducted by The Herald sports staff. Coaches were asked to choose a first and second team. Ten points were awarded for team selections and five points went to those named on the second string.

Bussert paces the first team with a unanimous vote from all six coaches. The 170 lb. senior yesterday was named the recipient of the David T. Smith Football Award.

This award goes to the outstanding senior gridiron player each year. It is a totating trophy and is sponsored by The Herald.

The 175-lb. Stoutsville native was the most feared player on the Six-Man grid scene this year. He broke the individual season scoring with 113 points.

IN HIS FOUR-YEAR career at Stoutsville he tallied more than 200 points on breath-taking plunges up the middle and sprints around end. He could pass, punt and kick-off to be a triple threat backfield man as well as a fine defensive stoutout.

Right on Bussert's heels with 55 points is Walters, a repeat All-County first stringer from last year as was Bussert. The 145-lb. senior quarterbacked the Trojans to the league championship last year and led them to a 2-3 slate this year.

Walters was as able a passer as he was a runner. The 5' 8" all-round athlete was outstanding in several games this year, especially against Scioto.

Tied with 45 points a piece were Clarke, Harber and Sanders. Clarke teamed with Clifton to stun Saltcreek's opponents with daring end runs and savage off-tackle slants.

The lone sophomore on the squad weighs in at 160 lbs. He was second to Bussert in the scoring race with 55 points.

Walnut's Harber also manned the quarterback position for the Tigers. He was an excellent passer and could run when the circumstance demanded. The Tigers finished in the league with a 3-2 slate.

THE 6' 1" JUNIOR was sixth in county scoring with 38 points. He weighs 170 lbs. packed on a slender frame and will be around another year to flood the gridiron with aials. He was third third string All-County last year.

Sanders led Scioto to a 2-2-1 slate and was instrumental in throwing the Buffaloes into a league third place tie with Saltcreek. He was fourth in county scoring with 42 points.

The 5' 8" senior alternated in passing with Dick Kaiser and his favorite target was end, Whiteside. Sanders was a definite threat due to his breakaway running around the flanks.

Sixth man on the squad is Clifton, a Saltcreek junior that truly loves the game of football. His superior blocking made many a hole for teammate Clarke.

Clifton, 160 lbs., was expert at diagnosing opposition offensive maneuvers and was one of the league's most rugged tacklers.

Whiteside captains the second team on the basis of being the top vote getter on the runner-up five. He was fifth in county scoring with 39 points.

THE 6' SOPHOMORE was quite adept at snaring teammate Sanders' passes and stood out on defense. He weighs 155 lbs.

Gray, Walnut's hard charging halfback, was the Tiger signal caller. He was best known for smacking up the middle and defensive aggressiveness.

He is the biggest of the All-Star selections at 185 lbs. and stands 5' 11". Gray also was named to last year's All-County second team.

Bussert. He ranked tenth in county scoring with 24 points tallied when Bussert was decoying.

Anderson, a sophomore, alternated at halfback and quarterback and will have a chance to prove himself next season. He weighs 145 lbs.

Dean led Pickaway's offensive attack along with Joe Goeller. Although the Pirates brought up the rear in county action with an 0-5 slate, Dean played his halfback position to the hilt.

HE WAS A fine end sprinter and equally adept on defense. The 140-lb. sophomore placed seventh in county scoring with 32 points.

Darby's Jerry Vance converted from end to halfback during the season and still made second string. He started the year as a sticky-fingered pass catcher and ended up a dogged runner and line smasher.

Vance, a 6' 1" junior, was a snappy defensive end. He weighs 170 lbs.

Final man on the second six is Walnut's Dave Weaver. He finished eighth in county scoring with 26 points, tied with Clifton.

Weaver took the majority of Harber's aials and was a demon on defense. He weighs 155 lbs. and stands 5' 10".

The following youths were named to the honorable mention team: Thomas Liff, a 155-lb., 5' 8" senior; Norman Wilson, a 146-lb. junior;

These youths provided Pickaway County Six-Man football fans with many thrills and by the looks of things, the majority will be back next year to battle on Saturday nights during the fall.

Warriors Depend On Newcomers

The Saltcreek Warriors enter the cage wars Friday night against Kingston (2-1) without the services of the sensational Gary Valentine and four other graduating seniors.

Everyone in Saltcreek Twp. realizes that the Warriors will not be as potent as last year when Valentine captured the Pickaway County scoring crown with a 25.3 average and a total of 379 points in 15 contests.

In addition to the scoring title, Valentine was named the Bob Bowsher trophy winner, the plumb of any county basketball playing senior's desire.

Joining Valentine at the sidelines this year are Larry Cupp, who compiled a 2.9 average at guard; David Jordan, 14; Bill Weaver, 6.1; and Jack Fout, a 1 point average.

BUT DON'T count the Warriors out of competition this year. Several fine reservists from last year have been looking good for Saltcreek.

Included are Roger Clark, a 5' 9" sophomore; Charles Spangler a 6' sophomore and Bob Hart, a 6' 1" junior. Clarke and Spangler saw plenty of varsity action last season and will be the nucleus of the 1959-60 squad.

Clarke averaged 5.5 points per game last year and Spangler notched an 8.4 average. Keith Turvey, a 5' 8" senior will be a starter as will Denny Valentine, a 5' 11" junior. Denny hit the nets for an 8.1 point average.

Other varsity players are Damon Fox, a 6' junior; Dick Shaw, a 5' 10" sophomore, and George Clifton, a 5' 9" junior. Turvey is the only senior on the squad, marking the Warriors as a team of the future.

The Warriors banded to an 8-7 record last year, being eliminated in the first game of the tournament, 57-55, by Pickaway. Their league slate stood at 5-4.

Offensively, Saltcreek netted 810 points during the regular season for a 57.8 point per game average. It allowed opposition to tally 714 points for a 50 point average.

THE WARRIORS placed fifth on offense in the county league and were the leading defensive aggregation. Saltcreek may be off to a slow start this year as it meets Kingston, Centraia (1-1), Stoutsville, Williamsport (3-0) and Ashville in its first five games.

This year's reserve squad will be composed of juniors: Kenny Valentine, 5' 9"; Bob Weaver, 5' 8", CLEVELAND (AP)—Don't judge the Pittsburgh Steelers on their National Football League won-lost record. They have won only three of eight games, but their victories were against the best in the league.

Pittsburgh is the only Eastern Conference team with victories over both the Cleveland Browns and New York Giants, who are tied for the conference lead with 6-2 records.

The Steelers, who won 17-7 in the first meeting, play Cleveland again here Sunday.

Coach Buddy Parker said of his Steelers:

"We have been beaten badly only once, that 45-24 loss to the Chicago Cardinals. In the other games we lost, we had a chance almost until the very end."

Pittsburgh is expected to have a little extra incentive Sunday. A loss would give them a 3-5 record, eliminating them from the title race. With a victory they at least retain a mathematical chance at the championship.

Says Parker:

"(Quarterback) Bobby Layne hasn't been having the season we hoped for and we haven't found the running to supplement his passing. Layne did a good job against the Giants, though. In fact it was a good showing by the whole team."

The good showing in New York last week (Steelers 14, Giants 9) dropped the Giants into the tie with Cleveland.

Cage Practice In Full Swing

Basketball practice is in full swing at Circleville High School with 16 hopefuls currently working with the varsity squad.

Candidates from the football squad have reported and Coach Dick Snouffer has initiated a full practice schedule. An important date for the Tigers looms December 4 when they travel to Franklin Heights to open the season.

So far Coach Snouffer has five seniors, four juniors and seven sophomores working with the varsity squad. The coach said several of the underclassmen may be dropped to the reserve team as the season progresses.

Footballer Dave Hicks is slated to report for drills as soon as an elbow injury heals. He suffered a pinched nerve in the Circleville-Washington rid test, but a quick recovery is expected.

SENIORS making a bid for berths are Bob Shadley, Larry Hannahs, Linden Gibson, Gary Vandemark, Jonas Hoover and Hicks.

Sophomores currently working with the varsity are John Jones, Dick Kline, Sam Weller, Jim Wellington, Luther Johnson, Irving Ellis and Roger Roebuck.

Ted Brown is handling the head manager responsibilities and Bill Hughes is serving as trainer.

Coach Snouffer will have three regulars returning from last season. They are Shadley, Hannahs and Bailey.

Hannahs, a 6-1 center, was the Tigers' second high scorer last year with a 11.8 average. Bailey, reporting the latter half of the season, sparkled as a floorman and ended the year with a 10.1 average.

SHADLEY, the tallest man on the team at 6-4, suffered a chipped bone in the elbow about midway in the season. Although his playing time was limited, he managed to end the season with an 8.7 average. Coach Jack Weidert will handle the reserve team. To date about 25 candidates have reported.

The reserve squad drills each evening starting at 5:30 p. m. in the CHS gym after the varsity unit finishes workouts.

Coach Snouffer said present plans call for separate 7th and 8th grade teams. The 8th graders, coached by Don Neff, hold drills at the armory on E. Franklin St. each evening.

Coach Paul Sarchet is handling the 7th graders. They hold practice sessions in the old CHS gym.

OSU Team Preps In Winter Chill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Coach Woody Hayes didn't want his Ohio State team getting soft Tuesday as they practiced indoors, so he opened the doors of French Field House to let in some of the frigid weather.

Second-string end Chuck Bryant of Zanesville suffered an injured wrist but Bryant said he thought he'd be in action Saturday as the Buckeyes go north to meet Michigan.

With the exceptions of fullback Bob White and right half Bill Wentz, all other players were reported back on the ready line.

Cooper Clouts Erskine, Asks Shot at Inge

LONDON (AP)—Henry Cooper, British and Empire heavyweight champion, today announced he has one fighter in mind for his next bout — world champion Ingemar Johansson of Sweden.

Cooper's confidence stems from his successful defense of the British title against challenger Joe Erskine Tuesday night.

The fight ended after 2:55 of the 12th round with Erskine sprawled across the ropes.

Erskine had been down for two counts of seven a few minutes earlier. Then Cooper waded in and knocked Erskine unconscious with a fusillade of killer punches.

Referee Eugene Henderson stopped the fight—Though Erskine was out for a good 30 seconds.

"Now the fighter I want to meet is Ingemar Johansson," the 25-year-old Cooper said.

"I think I can defeat Johansson and win the title for Britain." Cooper currently is rated fifth challenger for Johansson's world title. Erskine had been No. 7 on the list.

Speed and Power Feature Six-Man All-Star Selection

The 1939 Pickaway County All-Star Six-Man Football League team represents the "cream of the crop" with five talented backfield men and one aggressive lineman.

The first team finds three seniors, two juniors and a sophomore in the lineup. The lone lineman is George Clifton, Saltcreek's hard hitting junior center.

Darby, Walnut, Stoutsville and Scioto each placed one man on the first five while Saltcreek had two players named to the squad.

THE SECOND team is composed of one senior, two juniors and three sophomores. Scioto, Darby, Pickaway and Stoutsville each placed one man on the second string and Walnut placed two youths.

Second team members are Robert Whiteside, Scioto; Clarence Gray and David Weaver, Walnut; James Anderson, Stoutsville; Richard Dean, Pickaway, and Jerry Vance, Darby.

The All-Star team was selected by coaches of the county six-man league and conducted by The Herald sports staff. Coaches were asked to choose a first and second team. Ten points were awarded first team selections and five points went to those named on the second string.

Bussert paces the first team mention with a unanimous vote from all six coaches. The 170 lb. senior yesterday was named the recipient of the David T. Smith Football Award.

This award goes to the outstanding senior gridiron player each year. It is a totating trophy and is sponsored by The Herald.

The 175-lb. Stoutsville native was the most feared player on the Six-Man grid scene this year. He broke the individual season scoring with 113 points.

IN HIS FOUR-YEAR career at Stoutsville he tallied more than 200 points on breath-taking plunges up the middle and sprints around end. He could pass, punt and kick-off to be a triple threat backfield man as well as a fine defensive standout.

Right on Bussert's heels with 55 points is Walters, a repeat All-County first stringer from last year as was Bussert. The 145-lb. senior quarterbacked the Trojans to the league championship last year and led them to a 2-3 slate this year.

Walters was as able a passer as he was a runner. The 5' 8" all-round athlete was outstanding in several games this year, especially against Scioto.

Tied with 45 points a piece were Clarke, Harber and Sanders. Clarke teamed with Clifton to stun Saltcreek's opponents with daring end runs and savage off-tackle slants.

The lone sophomore on the squad weighs in at 160 lbs. He was second to Bussert in the scoring race with 55 points.

Walnut's Harber also manned the quarterback position for the Tigers. He was an excellent passer and could run when the circumstance demanded. The Tigers finished in the league with a 3-2 slate.

THE 6' 1" JUNIOR was sixth in county scoring with 38 points. He weighs 170 lbs. packed on a slender frame and will be around another year to flood the gridiron with aerials. He was third string All-County last year.

Sanders led Scioto to a 2-2-1 slate and was instrumental in throwing the Buffaloes into a league third place tie with Saltcreek. He was fourth in county scoring with 42 points.

The 5' 8" senior alternated in passing with Dick Kaiser and his favorite target was end, Whiteside. Sanders was a definite threat due to his breakaway running around the flanks.

Sixth man on the squad is Clifton, a Saltcreek junior that truly loves the game of football. His superior blocking made many a hole for teammate Clarke.

Clifton, 160 lbs., was expert at diagnosing opposition offensive maneuvers and was one of the league's most rugged tacklers.

Whiteside captains the second team on the basis of being the top vote getter on the runner-up five. He was fifth in county scoring with 39 points.

THE 6' SOPHOMORE was quite adept at snaring teammate Sanders' passes and stood out on defense. He weighs 155 lbs.

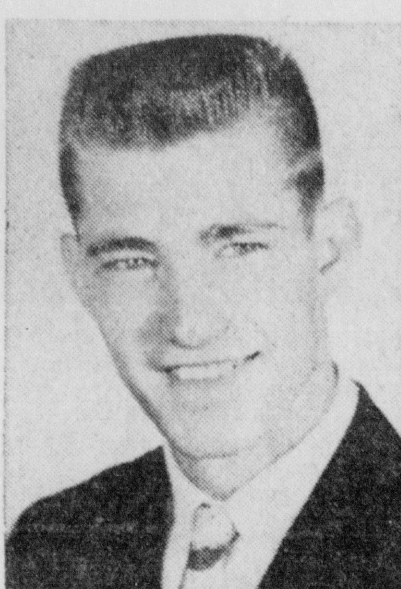

Gray, Walnut's hard charging halfback, was the Tiger signal caller. He was best known for smacking up the middle and defensive aggressiveness.

He is the biggest of the All-Star selections at 185 lbs. and stands 5' 11". Gray also was named to last year's All-County second team.

Bussert. He ranked tenth in county scoring with 24 points tallied when Bussert was decoying.

Anderson, a sophomore, alternated at halfback and quarterback and will have a chance to prove himself next season. He weighs 145 lbs.

Dean led Pickaway's offensive attack along with Joe Goeller. Although the Pirates brought up the rear in county action with an 0-5 slate, Dean played his halfback position to the hilt.

HE WAS A fine end sprinter and equally adept on defense. The 140-lb. sophomore placed seventh in county scoring with 32 points.

Darby's Jerry Vance converted from end to halfback during the season and still made second string. He started the year as a sticky-fingered pass catcher and ended up a dogged runner and line smasher.

Vance, a 6' 1" junior, was a snappy defensive end. He weighs 170 lbs.

Final man on the second six is Walnut's Dave Weaver. He finished eighth in county scoring with 26 points, tied with Clifton.

Weaver took the majority of Harber's aerials and was a demon on defense. He weighs 155 lbs. and stands 5' 10".

The following youths were named to the honorable mention team: Thomas Liff, a 155-lb., 5' 8" senior; Norman Wilson, a 146-lb. junior;

Douglas Woods, a 5' 8", 140-lb. senior; Phillip Hoover, a 6', 150-lb. senior; William Mount, a 160-lb. sophomore, and Keith Turvey, a 150-lb. senior.

These youths provided Pickaway County Six-Man football fans with many thrills and by the looks of things, the majority will be back next year to battle on Saturday nights during the fall.

Warriors Depend On Newcomers

The Saltcreek Warriors enter the cage was Friday night against Kingston (2-1) without the services of the sensational Gary Valentine and four other graduating seniors. Everyone in Saltcreek Twp. realizes that the Warriors will not be as potent as last year when Valentine captured the Pickaway County scoring crown with a 25.3 average and a total of 379 points in 15 contests.

In addition to the scoring title, Valentine was named the Bob Bowsher trophy winner, the plumb of any county basketball playing senior's desire.

Joining Valentine at the sidelines this year are Larry Cupp, who compiled a 2.9 average at guard; David Jordan, 14; Bill Weaver, 6.1, and Jack Fout, a 1 point average.

BUT DON'T count the Warriors out of competition this year. Several fine reservists from last year have been looking good for Saltcreek.

Included are Roger Clark, a 5' 9" sophomore; Charles Spangler a 6' sophomore and Bob Hart, a 6' 1" junior. Clarke and Spangler saw plenty of varsity action last season and will be the nucleus of the 1939-40 squad.

Clarke averaged 5.5 points per game last year and Spangler notched an 8.4 average. Keith Turvey, a 5' 8" senior will be a starter as will Denny Valentine, a 5' 11" junior. Denny hit the nets for an 8.1 point average.

Other varsity players are Damon Fox, a 6' junior; Dick Shaw, a 5' 10" sophomore, and George Clifton, a 5' 9" junior. Turvey is the only senior on the squad, marking the Warriors as a team of the future.

The Warriors banged to an 8-7 record last year, being eliminated in the first game of the tournament, 57-55, by Pickaway. Their league slate stood at 5-4.

Offensively, Saltcreek netted 810 points during the regular season for a 57.8 point per game average. It allowed opposition to tally 714 points for a 50 point average.

THE WARRIORS placed fifth on offense in the county league and were the leading defensive aggregation. Saltcreek may be off to a slow start this year as it meets Kingston, Centralia (1-1), Stoutsville, Williamsport (3-0) and Ashville in its first five games.

This year's reserve squad will be composed of juniors: Kenny Valentine, 5' 9"; Bob Weaver, 5' 8", and Bob Wiley, 5' 7"; Sophomores: Lenny Hardman, 5' 9"; Dave Horn, 5' 10"; and Terry Garrett, 5' 9", and freshmen: Terry Anderson, 5' 7"; Jim Pennington, 5' 8", and Jim Martindale, 5' 5".

Varsity cheerleaders are seniors — Becky Collins, Judy Hardman and Carolyn Cupp, and juniors — Beverly Hartranft and Judy Archer.

Reserve cheerleaders are Jo Ann Dresbach, Verna McFadden and Verneidne Van Fossen, all sophomores. Managers are Gene Jordan, sophomore, and Jerry Spangler, junior.

OSU's Fastest Track Star Is an 18-Year-Old Coed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Normally, a nice coed like Susie doesn't relish the reputation of being the fastest girl in the entire Freshman Class.

Of being able, given sufficient time, to catch darn near any boy at Ohio State University.

But Susie is different. Susie is 18-year-old Susie Whitaker, of Columbus, who confines her reputation for speed to the cinder oval encircling the football field in big Ohio Stadium.

There Susie — who is lovely enough to catch the fellers in a few other ways as well, if she were so inclined — works out daily, weather permitting.

Susie is the only girl at Ohio State who "goes out" for track.

Not for the regular track team, you understand. Girls aren't eligible for that. But Susie is a member — and virtually the mascot — of the Ohio Track Club, composed of some 25 enthusiastic thin-clads who are otherwise ineligible for intercollegiate competition.

Most of them are post-graduates, who run just for the pure fun of it — like Susie — or with their eyes fixed on AAU meets where amateur standing is the only requirement — and where the Olympics represent the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow.

Susie got interested in running only last summer, after her graduation from Columbus School for Girls. She entered the sport with the hearty encouragement of her father, contractor Chris Whitaker, a former amateur weight lifter who was good enough to reach the qualifying round for the Olympic team.

"He believes it's a good idea not only to keep physically fit, but that there's a tremendous amount of pure joy just in exercise," Susie said.

Susie can already do a fast quarter of a mile in about 1:14 — pretty good time for a girl — and clips off the half-mile, or 880, in just over three minutes.

And she has done as many as 21 laps — more than five miles — at a clip without pulling up for a rest!

Susie isn't interested in the dashes — it's the long distances that appeal to her, although currently the 880 — half-mile — is the longest race sanctioned for women in this country.

What does it take to be a distance runner?

"You gotta have heart!" Susie quoted from the Broadway musical, "Damn Yankees."

Two of the track club members who are coaching Susie — Roger Hahn, a graduate of Oberlin who is doing post-graduate work at OSU in chemistry, and Mike Hayes, a Dublin Irishman doing post-graduate work in agronomy — see big things in store for Susie if she keeps at it.

"Over a mile, she can outrun the average male student right now," says Mike.

"By next spring, this girl will really be good, if she keeps at it," says Roger.

Susie says she will. Although interested also in writing and art as indoor hobbies, she has no steady boyfriend — "plays the field," Mike and Roger grinned — and appears to be more and more interested in running with each workout.

"There's a free trip to Rome for Susie if she keeps plugging," Mike said. "The girls' dash competition is pretty rugged — but the field is wide-open for feminine distance runners. We believe the Olympics may well be within her reach."

Pheasant Gives Dayton Hunters Only 'the Bird'

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dayton area pheasant hunters shot at, kicked and even used two guns on a "pheasant" near here Tuesday. But all they got was "the bird."

Officials of Dayton Power & Light Co.'s Hutchings Station said someone had placed a stuffed pheasant near the plant's main entrance.

One frustrated hunter reportedly weapon when the first failed to fire at the bird with a second rouse it.

Pacific Teams Vie for Roses

2 Washington Crews To Battle Saturday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — If Washington's Huskies beat their traditional rivals, Washington State, this Saturday, the Huskies are a cinch for the Rose Bowl.

But if the Cougars upset Washington — and Oregon knocks off Oregon State — and UCLA topples unbeaten Southern California — the Rose Bowl selection committee will have one of its biggest headaches ever in picking the 1960 Pacific Coast representative.

The Far West entry will be selected by a committee of nine athletic directors of the schools that made up the old Pacific Coast Conference.

The West Coast representative doesn't have to be the club with the most victories. The by-laws of the old PCC stress that it should be the most representative team.

Greg Englehard, California's athletic director, chairman of this year's selection committee said, "Washington seems to have the inside track right now but frankly anything could happen by Saturday night. We won't know who's going to play at Pasadena until all nine votes are in. The voting deadline is noon Monday."

Other voters are the athletic directors of Stanford, Southern Cal, UCLA, Washington, Washington State, Oregon, Oregon State and Idaho.

Unbeaten USC is ineligible because of an NCAA ban, for recruiting violations that won't be lifted until after New Year's Day.

The 1959 scores, that count, Englehard said, are strictly those of each of the former PCC members.

Hannahs 'Player of Week' For WCH Grid Performance

Larry Hannahs, Circleville High School's stellar fullback, has been named "Player of the Week" for his outstanding performance in the Washington C. H. football game.

It marked the second time this season that the fleet fullback has received the honor award outright. He also tied with End Dick Warner for the award in a previous game.

In grading conducted by coaches last night, Hannahs received a 2.6 mark for his work in the WCH contest. The Tigers dropped the game, 28-8.

Films showed that the hard-running fullback was in on more than 50 per cent of the tackles. He also was the Tigers' main threat on offense.

THE churning back broke through the big Washington line several times for sizable gains and added the Tigers' two extra points after touchdown.

Guard Irving Ellis earned the highest grade on offense alone. His dependable performance in opening holes earned him a 2.79 mark.

Other Tigers earning high grades were Quarterback Dave Smith, End Dick Warner and End Jake Bailey. All were in the running for top honors.

Coach Carl Benhase said the over all team grades were lower than average.

"By next spring, this girl will really be good, if she keeps at it," says Roger.

Susie says she will. Although interested also in writing and art as indoor hobbies, she has no steady boyfriend — "plays the field," Mike and Roger grinned — and appears to be more and more interested in running with each workout.

"There's a free trip to Rome for Susie if she keeps plugging," Mike said. "The girls' dash competition is pretty rugged — but the field is wide-open for feminine distance runners. We believe the Olympics may well be within her reach."

Pheasant Gives Dayton Hunters Only 'the Bird'
DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dayton area pheasant hunters shot at, kicked and even used two guns on a "pheasant" near here Tuesday. But all they got was "the bird."

Officials of Dayton Power & Light Co.'s Hutchings Station said someone had placed a stuffed pheasant near the plant's main entrance.

One frustrated hunter reportedly weapon when the first failed to fired at the bird with a second rouse it.

Pacific Teams Vie for Roses

2 Washington Crews To Battle Saturday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — If Washington's Huskies beat their traditional rivals, Washington State, this Saturday, the Huskies are a cinch for the Rose Bowl.

But if the Cougars upset Washington — and Oregon knocks off Oregon State — and UCLA topples unbeaten Southern California — the Rose Bowl selection committee will have one of its biggest headaches ever in picking the 1960 Pacific Coast representative.

The Far West entry will be selected by a committee of nine athletic directors of the schools that made up the old Pacific Coast Conference.

The West Coast representative doesn't have to be the club with the most victories. The by-laws of the old PCC stress that it should be the most representative team.

Greg Englehard, California's athletic director, chairman of this year's selection committee said, "Washington seems to have the inside track right now but frankly anything could happen by Saturday night. We won't know who's going to play at Pasadena until all nine votes are in. The voting deadline is noon Monday."

Guard Irving Ellis earned the highest grade on offense alone. His dependable performance in opening holes earned him a 2.79 mark.

Other Tigers earning high grades

Other voters are the athletic directors of Stanford, Southern Cal, UCLA, Washington, Washington State, Oregon, Oregon State and Idaho.

Unbeaten USC is ineligible because of an NCAA ban, for recruiting violations that won't be lifted until after New Year's Day. The 1959 scores that count, Englehard said, are strictly those of each of the former PCC mem-

Hannahs 'Player of Week' For WCH Grid Performance

Larry Hannahs, Circleville High School's stellar fullback, has been named "Player of the Week" for his outstanding performance in the Washington C. H. football game.

It marked the second time this season that the fleet fullback has received the honor award outright. He also tied with End Dick Warner for the award in a previous game.

In grading conducted by coaches last night, Hannahs received a 2.6 mark for his work in the WCH contest. The Tigers dropped the game, 28-8.

Films showed that the hard-running fullback was in on more than 50 per cent of the tackles. He also was the Tigers' main threat on offense.

THE churning back broke through the big Washington line several times for sizable gains and added the Tigers' two extra points after touchdown.

Guard Irving Ellis earned the highest grade on offense alone. His dependable performance in opening holes earned him a 2.79 mark.

Other Tigers earning high grades were Quarterback Dave Smith, End Dick Warner and End Jake Bailey. All were in the running for top honors.

Coach Carl Benhase said the over all team grades were lower than average.

Yellow Springs, Antioch College Feud over Sewers

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP)—Yellow Springs' fight with Antioch College over building a sewage treatment plant and running a gravity sewer line through scenic Glen Helen grew hotter Tuesday.

Refusing a proposal by Antioch College to give the village, without cost, two plots of land to build a pumping station and treatment plant instead of running the sewer line through the glen, the village council indicated it will attempt condemnation proceedings on the land they want.

Glen Helen is a 1,000-acre nature laboratory and recreation spot for Antioch College. The Yellow Springs village council wants a 50-foot-wide easement for the sewer line running 11.3 miles through Glen Helen to the south end where a 5.8-acre plot would be used for the treatment plant.

The village originally was going to court to get mere access rights to the land they want. But the college brought in a survey team from the University of Michigan, which said the resulting construction damage to trees and shrubs would cost the village $400,000.

Now the village is going to try to get title to the land so it won't have to pay. Village Solicitor Philip Aultman said the college's estimate is "obviously fantastic and has little to do with the value of the real estate." The survey conducted by the college's experts, he said, involved counting trees, shrubs vines and perennials and an assignment of value to each.

The $400,000 figure would mean the land is worth $30,000 per acre, Aultman said, and comparable wooded areas in the vicinity recently sold for $200 per acre.

The village wants the Glen Helen land because a gravity sewer line, which is cheaper than the pumping station the college proposes, is only feasible through the glen.

The college said the village ought to withstand the extra expense of a pumping station to preserve the beauty of Glen Helen.

Aultman said action will be completed Dec. 21.

Redleg Parking Deal Is Upheld Again

CINCINNATI (AP)—The city's bargain with the Cincinnati Reds to improve parking around Crosley Field is legal in the opinion of the First District Court of Appeals.

The court Tuesday upheld the city's right to condemn property to provide parking space for baseball fans.

Superior Laundry & Towel Supply Co., whose building behind the ball park's outfield is sought by the city, filed suit against the city contending the bargain was not legal.

The city has already spent $1, 500,000 of a promised two millions on parking around Crosley Field in return for the ball club's promise to remain here at least five years. Hamilton County is helping foot the bill.

An attorney for the laundry said he plans to take the case to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Ohio Hunters Cautioned About Hunting Quail

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—For the first time in 46 years, Ohio hunters can shoot quail, and Herbert B. Eagon, natural resources chief, feels hunters' inexperience may lead to accidents.

"Some hunters may have forgotten that quail tend to fly low when flushed," Eagon said. "You have to watch out for the possibility of another hunter's being in your line of fire."

Eagon has received no shooting fatality reports yet.

A Japanese attempt to conquer Korea late in the 16th Century was thwarted by ironclad "turtle ships" which destroyed the Japanese fleet.

Unitas Near Pro Football Pass Record

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Johnny Unitas, Baltimore's star quarterback, is close to breaking a National Football League record for the most touchdown passes in one season.

He's only third among leading passers, league statistics released today show, but he's thrown 22 for touchdowns, the last three in the Colts' 28-24 victory over Green Bay Sunday.

That's only six short of the record set by Chicago's Sid Luckman in 1943. Unitas has four games to go.

Unitas also leads the league in total yards gained passing. He has 2,133 compared with the 1,622 of Norm Van Brocklin of Philadelphia.

Frank Rice of Los Angeles, who hadn't attempted enough passes last week to qualify for passing honors, jumped into first place this week with 68 attempts (one more than needed to qualify), 36 completions, 596 yards gained and the all-important average gain of 8.76.

Ralph Guglielmi of Washington was second with 67 attempts, 30 completions, 562 yards and an 8.59 average. Unitas, with 251 attempts and 135 completions, has an 8.17 average.

Among ground gainers, Cleveland's Jimmy Brown leads with 199 attempts, 902 yards gained and a 4.5 average. J. D. Smith Jr., San Francisco, continued in second place with 154 attempts, 756 yards and a 4.9 average. Los Angeles' Ollie Matson held third place with 741 yards on 136 carries for a 5.4 average.

Cage Contests Set Thursday

Three games are scheduled in the Circleville Independent Basketball League Thursday night at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum.

The first tilt, slated to start at 7 p. m., bills Barr's All-Stars vs. Amanda. The second contest lists Veterans of Foreign Wars vs. River Oil and an Orient Farmers Exchange vs. Williamsport battle follows.

The VFW-River Oil test will headline the evening of cage war. Both teams have won two and lost none so far in the early season.

Orient and Williamsport each stand at 1-1 for the season and Amanda and Barr's still seek first wins.

Detroit To Open Cleveland Season

CLEVELAND (AP)—If winter comes, can spring be far behind? Five months from Thursday the Cleveland Indians open their 1960 baseball season in Municipal Stadium against the Detroit Tigers.

The home schedule, released Tuesday, shows the Indians playing only four April games here, but making up for it with a long home stay of 16 games in September.

Except for a Sept. 25 game with the Chicago White Sox, all the Cleveland Sunday home dates are doubleheaders. Two with the Yankees come on June 26, and Sept. 11.

If the Chicago White Sox, as pennant defenders, prove to be the team to beat in 1960, the American League pennant-clincher may be played here for the second year in a row. The Indians and White Sox meet in six of their last nine games, three here Sept. 23-25 and then three in Chicago.

Harvard, Yale Rap Student Loan Setup

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Yale and Harvard, two of the nation's most influential universities, have withdrawn from the federal student loan program. The program requires borrowers to sign a loyalty affidavit.

Yale President A. Whitney Griswold said the affidavit "is contrary to the classic principles of our colleges and universities."

Harvard President Nathan M. Pusey called it misguided, and an "affidavit of disbelief."

The affidavit, required of students applying for federal education loans, states that the applicant does not believe in, belong to, or support "any organization that believes in or teaches the overthrow of the United States government by force or violence or by any illegal or unconstitutional means."

Griswold and Pusey made their announcements Tuesday independently. But it was learned that the two presidents had talked the matter over by telephone Tuesday and had been discussing the affidavit for several months.

Their decisions mean almost a half million dollars in available funds will not be used. Harvard is turning back $357,873. Yale, which already has received $160,000, said it will return most of another $50,000 to which it is entitled.

The affidavit was required by the National Defense Act of 1958, which put the student loan fund into operation. An effort was made in the Senate last summer to delete the affidavit requirement, but it failed. The affidavit is accompanied by an oath of support of the U.S. Constitution.

At least nine others have withdrawn or announced their intention to withdraw. They are Grinnell of Iowa, St. John's and Goucher of Maryland, Antioch, Wilmington and Oberlin of Ohio, Bennington of Vermont, Reed of Oregon, and Sarah Lawrence of New York.

City Council Hears Talk On Merits of Fine Box Plan

Parking meter fine box discussions last night at the regular City Council meeting was the principal time-consumer.

However, the most important action of the legislative body was boosting the annual pay of the city auditor to $4,200. The ordinance was passed under a suspension of the three-reading rule, with Councilman Boyd Horn voting "no" on the law.

Although the other six councilmen approved the pay boost for city auditor Marvyn Turner, Horn declared the increase was "too high."

The lawmakers passed four appropriation ordinances and transferred funds from the sewer rental account, most of the moves to bring books in line at the end of the year.

Appropriated from the General Fund was:

A TOTAL of $3,900 for purchase of two new 1960 police cruisers; $50 to Treasurer's stationery account; $50 to auditor's incidental account; $300 to the insurance account; $300 to outdoor relief account; $50 to City Building maintenance and repair account; $150 to City Building incidentals account; $500 to engineering account and $840 to assistant to city solicitor account.

Appropriated from the Street Construction, Maintenance and Repair Fund was $7,400 to the materials account; $100 to maintenance of equipment account; $100 to gasoline and oil account, and $175 to traffic light current account.

The solons appropriated $600 from the Sewer Rental Fund to the engineering services account.

An ordinance was passed transferring $3,000 from the Sewer Rental Fund, Debt Reserve Fund, to the Debt Service Fund. The ordinance corrects an error in transferring funds connected with the Sewer District No. 1 issue.

James Toles, former city Service Department employee, spoke about being fired from his job with the department.

Service Director Carl Radcliff declared that Toles was fired because he was arrested for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, although the arrest was not while Toles was on the job.

Toles declared that other men in the department had been arrested on the same charge but were not fired. Council told Toles that operation of the Service Department is strictly an administrative problem and that Radcliff, as Service Director, is charged with running the department as he sees fit.

Homer T. Showalter, Wabash, Ind., discussed the operation of parking meter fine boxes. Council is considering installation of boxes at the request of the Retail Merchants Committee of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

THE BOXES would be placed throughout the metered area, so that motorists who received a parking meter violation ticket could pay the fine at the boxes rather than go to the Police Station to pay. Showalter said the system has worked well in cities throughout the state.

Three members of the Retail Merchants Committee were on hand for the discussion — Hal Dickinson, C. O. Schweitzer and A. A. Lustnauer. They urged Council to adopt the system without delay. The solons decided to hear a salesman from a second company

R. L. Brehmer Jr. asked the status of Council's action on the Master Plan for Circleville. He was told that the City Planning and Zoning Commission is working on subdivision regulations at the present time and will report back to Council in the near future.

Brehmer said the Chamber of Commerce has invested $2,300 in the Master Plan, a gift to the city. He declared the Chamber is becoming concerned with the slowness with which adoption proceedings are going.

Judge Sterling Lamb appeared at the session. He explained a request for a pay boost for the clerk of Municipal Court. The matter was tabled until Council can meet with the clerk regarding the request.

Horn asked that the Safety Department investigate the placing of some kind of safety signal at the corner of Washington and Logan Sts., for protection of school

No Prison Terms Asked in Ohio Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal prosecutors had recommended only fines in an Ohio antitrust suit that drew jail terms, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said Tuesday.

One of the defendants committed suicide Monday en route to the Federal Building in Columbus to begin a 90-day jail term. John T. Mains, 56, of Greenfield, Ohio, vice president of the Union Fork & Hoe Co., Columbus, was one of four executives of hand-tool manufacturing firms convicted on price-fixing charges.

Rogers said the sentence, which included heavy fines, was within the jurisdiction of the court of Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood.

Rogers said the men had pleaded "no contest" when told that government attorneys would not ask jail terms.

R. L. Brehmer Jr. asked the status of Council's action on the Master Plan for Circleville. He was told that the City Planning and Zoning Commission is working on subdivision regulations at the present time and will report back to Council in the near future.

Brehmer said the Chamber of Commerce has invested $2,300 in the Master Plan, a gift to the city. He declared the Chamber is becoming concerned with the slowness with which adoption proceedings are going.

Judge Sterling Lamb appeared at the session. He explained a request for a pay boost for the clerk of Municipal Court. The matter was tabled until Council can meet with the clerk regarding the request.

No Prison Terms Asked in Ohio Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal prosecutors had recommended only fines in an Ohio antitrust suit that drew jail terms, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said Tuesday.

One of the defendants committed suicide Monday en route to the Federal Building in Columbus to begin a 90-day jail term. John T. Mains, 56, of Greenfield, Ohio, vice president of the Union Fork & Hoe Co., Columbus, was one of four executives of hand-tool manufacturing firms convicted on price-fixing charges.

Rogers said the sentence, which included heavy fines, was within the jurisdiction of the court of Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood.

Rogers said the men had pleaded "no contest" when told that government attorneys would not ask jail terms.
